iGAAP 2008 - Financial instruments: IAS 32, IAS 39 and IFRS 7 explained

The onerous obligations of IFRS for both accounting and treasury functions require not only a laundry list of complex valuations and disclosures but in the case of IFRS 7, the exercise of judgment as to precisely what disclosures constitute compliance. The application of IFRS 7 is in its infancy and it is comprehensively dealt with in this book along with illustrative disclosures. In addition, as much of financial instruments accounting originates from the equivalent guidance in the US standards, this book includes comparisons to US GAAP as many differences remain.

Now in its fourth edition, this is an accumulation of deep technical expertise and practical experience of applying these standards across industries.
