WARNING

This checklist summarises the presentation and disclosure requirements set out in Australian Accounting Standards. Australian Accounting Standards include Standards as issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) and Urgent Issues Group (UIG) Interpretations. This checklist may be used to assist in considering compliance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of those pronouncements. It is not a substitute for your understanding of such pronouncements and the exercise of your judgment.

You are presumed to have a thorough understanding of the pronouncements and should refer to the text of the pronouncements, as necessary, in considering particular items in this checklist. The items in this checklist are referenced to the applicable sections of the actual pronouncements as published by the AASB.

This checklist addresses the presentation and disclosure requirements of Australian Accounting Standards on issue at 30 June 2005. It does not address the requirements of Australian Accounting Standards as regards recognition and measurement.

Use of this checklist

This checklist is provided solely for your intended use and should not be provided to any other person or entity.

None of (1) the member firm that provides the checklist to clients, (2) Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu, or (3) any other member firm of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu or any of their respective subsidiaries, affiliates and related entities, is by means of this checklist rendering accounting or other professional advice or services. This checklist is not a substitute for professional advice or services, nor should it be used as the basis for any decision or action that may affect your business.

None of (1) the member firm that provides the checklist to clients, (2) Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu, or (3) any other member firm of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu or any of their respective subsidiaries, affiliates and related entities, shall be responsible for any loss sustained by any person who relies on this checklist.

Please note that while every effort has been made to ensure that this checklist is complete in terms of the Australian Accounting Standards presentation and disclosure requirements, users will inevitably be required to exercise professional judgment based on specific circumstances. This checklist is merely an enabling tool that does not address such judgmental issues. Users of this checklist are advised to consult their professional advisors in that regard.

The detailed presentation and disclosure points generally require a "Yes", "No" or "N/A" response. Depending on the response, you may need to take further action.

Australian Accounting Standards are constantly changing. It is the responsibility of users of this checklist to maintain current knowledge of Australian Accounting Standards which may impact the content of this checklist.

Introduction

In July 2002, the Financial Reporting Council ('FRC') formalised its support for International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS, previously known as International Accounting Standards) to be adopted for financial reporting in Australia by 1 January 2005. The Federal Government has also, under its Corporate Law Economic Reform Program with the release of Issue Paper No. 9 'Corporate Disclosure – Strengthening the Financial Reporting Framework', reinforced the FRC's proposal for the adoption of IFRS by 2005.

The compelling reason for Australia's convergence with IFRS is that a single set of high quality accounting standards which are accepted in major international capital markets will greatly facilitate cross-border comparisons by investors, reduce the cost of capital, and assist Australian companies wishing to raise capital or list overseas. The timing of the introduction of IFRS coincides with the requirement for European Union listed companies to prepare financial reports in accordance with IFRS.

In July 2004, the AASB formally 'made' the entire suite of IFRS into Australian Accounting Standards (known as Australian equivalents to IFRS). The AASB also issued ancillary AASB Standards supporting the Australian equivalents to IFRS and other AASB Standards that apply to certain types of entities. These Accounting Standards are applicable to all entities complying with Accounting Standards in Australia from 1 January 2005.

The UIG similarly adopted the International Accounting Standards Board's Interpretations for application to reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2005. UIG Abstracts addressing domestic issues that are to be retained have been revised to update references to the revised Accounting Standards and to ensure consistency with those Standards. All other existing UIG Abstracts were withdrawn with effect for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2005.

Standards and Interpretations covered by this checklist

This checklist is intended to aid the user in determining if the presentation and disclosure requirements of Australian Accounting Standards have been met for a half-year financial report prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001. It does not address the requirements of Australian Accounting Standards as regards recognition and measurement.

This checklist covers the presentation and disclosure requirements of AASB 1 'First-time Adoption of Australian Equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards' and AASB 134 'Interim Financial Reporting' on issue at 30 June 2005. Note that:

- the checklist is suitable for use in assessing presentation and disclosure in half-year financial reports prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards for periods beginning on or after 1 January 2005; and
- certain Standards and Interpretations on issue at 30 June 2005 are not effective for periods beginning on 1 January 2005. Earlier application of these requirements is generally encouraged.

The checklist incorporates the following amendments made by the AASB since AASB 134 was originally issued in July 2004:

- AASB 2004-2 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards (December 2004)
- AASB 2005-7 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards [AASB 134] (June 2005)

Suggestions for completion of this checklist

Financial statements should not be described as complying with A-IFRS unless they comply with all of the requirements of each applicable Standard and each applicable Interpretation.

The user of this checklist is presumed to have a thorough understanding of and familiarity with Australian Accounting Standards. This checklist consists of disclosures that address topics or areas which may/may not be relevant to your specific situation.

References are made by AASB number, followed by the paragraph number e.g. AASB 134.26 refers to paragraph 26 of AASB 134.

The questions do not cover any matters dealt with in the implementation guidance included in Australian Accounting Standards. It is therefore essential that the user refers to the detailed text of the relevant Australian Accounting Standard, as necessary.

Limited guidance is provided by way of notes and these are identifiable by the italic font.

Summary of apparent non-compliance issues

When completing this checklist, the table below may be used to summarise areas of apparent non-compliance with Australian Accounting Standards in the half-year financial report under review, and a description of action taken.

| | This section of the checklist addresses AASB 134 which prescribes the accounting treatment for half-year financial reporting. The principal issues are: the minimum content required for a half-year financial report and the recognition and measurement principles for complete or condensed half-year financial reports. AASB 1, First-time Adoption of Australian Equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards, includes additional disclosure requirements for interim periods covered by the entity's first A-IFRS financial statements. | AASB 134.6 | Note: AASB 134 defines the minimum content of an interim financial report as including condensed financial statements and selected explanatory notes. The interim financial report is intended to provide an update on the latest complete annual financial report. Accordingly, it focuses on new activities, events, and circumstances and does not duplicate information previously reported. | |

| AASB 134.8(a) | a) a condensed balance sheet; | |
| AASB 134.8(b) | b) a condensed income statement; | |
| AASB 134.8(c) | c) a condensed statement showing either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i) all changes in equity; or ii) changes in equity other than those arising from transactions with equity holders acting in their capacity as equity holders. | |
| AASB 134.8(d) | d) a condensed cash flow statement; and | |
| AASB 134.8(e) | e) selected explanatory notes. | |
| | Form and content of interim financial statements | |
| AASB134.Aus16.3 | The interim financial report shall prominently display an explicit statement that the interim financial report is to be read in conjunction with the most recent annual financial report | |
| AASB 134.9 | If an entity publishes a complete financial report as its interim financial report, the form and content of that report shall conform to the requirements of AASB 101 Presentation of Financial Statements for a financial report. | |
| AASB 134.10 | If an entity publishes a condensed financial report as its interim financial report, that condensed report shall include, at a minimum, each of the headings and subtotals that were included in its most recent annual financial report and the selected explanatory notes as required by AASB 134. | |
| AASB134.Aus16.4 | Where the entity includes condensed financial statements in its interim financial report, those condensed statements shall be clearly labelled as such. | |
| AASB134.Aus16.4 | Where the interim financial report does not include notes of the type normally included in an annual financial report, that fact shall be disclosed in the notes in the interim financial report. | |
| AASB 134.10 | Additional line items or notes shall be included if their omission would make the condensed interim financial report misleading. | |
| AASB 134.7 | Note: Where the entity has opted to publish a complete financial report for the interim period, the recognition and measurement guidance in AASB 134 applies to that financial report, and the financial report should include all of the disclosures required by AASB 134 (particularly the selected note disclosures in paragraph 16 of AASB 134) as well as those required by other Standards. | |
| AASB 134.11 | Basic and diluted earnings per share shall be presented on the face of the income statement, complete or condensed, for the interim period. | |

| AASB 134.13 | Note: AASB 101 requires a statement of changes in equity to be presented as a separate component of an entity's financial report, and permits information about changes in equity arising from transactions with equity holders acting in their capacity as equity holder (including distributions to equity holders) to be shown either on the face of that statement or in the notes. | |
| AASB 134.Aus14.1 | A parent that prepares an interim financial report shall include consolidated financial statements in its interim financial report. | |
| AASB 134.Aus14.2 | Note: If an entity's annual financial report included the parent's separate financial statements in addition to consolidated financial statements, AASB 134 neither requires nor prohibits the inclusion of the parent's separate financial statements in the entity's interim financial report. | |
| Selected explanatory notes | | |
| AASB 134.15 | Note: A user of an entity's interim financial report will also have access to the most recent annual financial report of that entity. It is unnecessary, therefore, for the notes to an interim financial report to provide relatively insignificant updates to the information that was already reported in the notes in the most recent annual report. At an interim date, an explanation of events and transactions that are significant to an understanding of the changes in financial position and performance of the entity since the last annual reporting date is more useful. | |
| An entity shall include the following information, as a minimum, in the notes to its interim financial report, if material and if not disclosed elsewhere in the interim financial report: | | |
| AASB 134.16(a) | a) a statement that the same accounting policies and methods of computation are followed in the interim financial statements as compared with the most recent annual financial report or, if those policies or methods have been changed, a description of the nature and effect of the change; | |
| AASB 134.16(b) | b) explanatory comments about the seasonality or cyclicity of interim operations; | |
| AASB 134.16(c) | c) the nature and amount of items affecting assets, liabilities, equity, profit or loss, or cash flows that are unusual because of their nature, size, or incidence; | |
| AASB 134.16(d) | d) the nature and amount of changes in estimates of amounts reported in prior interim periods of the current annual reporting period or changes in estimates of amounts reported in prior annual reporting periods, if those changes have a material effect in the current interim period; | |
| AASB 134.16(e) | e) issuances, repurchases, and repayments of debt and equity securities; | |
| AASB 134.16(f) | f) dividends paid (aggregate or per share) separately for ordinary shares and other shares; The entity shall disclose in the same manner that disclosures in paragraph 16 are made: | |
| AASB134.Aus16.2 (a) | (a) the amount in aggregate or per share of dividends that were: (i) either recognised as distributions to equity holders; or (ii) proposed or declared before the interim financial report was authorised for issue but not recognised as a distribution to equity holders; and | |
| AASB134.Aus16.2 (b) | (b) the amount of any cumulative preference dividends not recognised. | |
| AASB 134.16(g) | g) segment revenue and segment result for business segments or geographical segments, whichever is the entity's primary basis of segment reporting; | |
| AASB 134.16(g) | Note: Disclosure of segment data is required in an entity's interim financial report only if AASB 114, Segment Reporting, requires that entity to disclose segment data in its annual financial report. | |

| AASB 134.16(h) | h) material events subsequent to the end of the interim period that have not been reflected in the financial statements for the interim period; | |
| AASB134.Aus16.1 | In relation to paragraph 16(h), an indication, where possible, of the financial effect of each event shall be disclosed. | |
| AASB 134.16(i) | i) the effect of changes in the composition of the entity during the interim period, including business combinations, acquisition or disposal of subsidiaries and long-term investments, restructurings, and discontinued operations; and | |
| AASB 134.16(i) | Note: In the case of business combinations, the entity shall disclose the information required to be disclosed under paragraphs 66 to 73 of AASB 3, Business Combinations. | |
| AASB 134.16(j) | j) changes in contingent liabilities or contingent assets since the last annual reporting date. | |
| AASB 134.16 | The explanatory notes outlined above (paragraph 16 of AASB 134) shall normally be reported on an annual reporting period-to-date basis. | |
| AASB 134.16 | Notwithstanding that the explanatory notes outlined above (paragraph 16 of AASB 134) are normally reported on an annual reporting period-to-date basis, the entity shall also disclose any events or transactions that are material to an understanding of the current interim period. | |
| AASB 134.17 | Notes: 1) Examples of the kinds of disclosures that are required by paragraph 16 of AASB 134 are set out below. Individual Standards and Interpretations provide guidance regarding disclosures for many of these items: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the write-down of inventories to net realisable value and the reversal of such a write-down; • recognition of a loss from the impairment of property, plant, and equipment, intangible assets, or other assets, and the reversal of such an impairment loss; • the reversal of any provisions for the costs of restructuring; • acquisitions and disposals of items of property, plant, and equipment; • commitments for the purchase of property, plant, and equipment; • litigation settlements; • corrections of prior period errors; • any loan default or breach of a loan agreement that has not been remedied on or before the reporting date; and • related party transactions. | |
| AASB 134.18 | 2) Other Australian Accounting Standards specify disclosures that should be made in a financial report. In that context, financial report means a complete financial report of the type normally included in an annual financial report and sometimes included in other reports. Except as required by paragraph 16(i) (business combinations - see above), the disclosures required by those other Australian Accounting Standards are not required if an entity's interim financial report includes only condensed financial statements and selected explanatory notes rather than a complete financial report. | |
| AASB134.Aus18.1 | 3) Voluntary disclosures in addition to the minimum required by AASB 134, if dealt with by other applicable Australian Accounting Standards, shall be made in a manner consistent with those Standards. | |
| | Disclosure of compliance with AASB 134 | |
| AASB 134.19 | If an entity's interim financial report is in compliance with AASB 134, that fact shall be disclosed. | |
| AASB 134.19 | Note: An interim financial report shall not be described as complying with Australian Accounting Standards unless it complies with all of the requirements of each applicable Australian Accounting Standard. | |

|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|
| Periods for which interim financial statements are required to be presented | | |
| Interim reports shall include interim financial statements (condensed or complete) for periods as follows: | | |
| AASB 134.20(a) | a) balance sheet as of the end of the current interim period and a comparative balance sheet as of the end of the immediately preceding annual reporting period; | |
| AASB 134.20(b) | b) income statements for the current interim period and cumulatively for the current annual reporting period to date, with comparative income statements for the comparable interim periods (current and annual reporting period-to-date) of the immediately preceding annual reporting period; | |
| AASB 134.20(c) | c) statement showing changes in equity cumulatively for the current annual reporting period to date, with a comparative statement for the comparable annual reporting period-to-date period of the immediately preceding annual reporting period; and | |
| AASB 134.20(d) | d) cash flow statement cumulatively for the current annual reporting period to date, with a comparative statement for the comparable annual reporting period-to-date period of the immediately preceding annual reporting period. | |
| Note: Appendix A to AASB 134 illustrates the periods required to be presented by an entity that reports half-yearly and an entity that reports quarterly. | | |
| AASB 134.21 | Entities whose business is highly seasonal are encouraged (but not required) to report financial information for the twelve months ending on the interim reporting date, and comparative information for the prior twelve-month period. | |
| AASB 134.21 | Note: If such information is reported, on the basis that it may be useful to users of the interim financial report, it is in addition to the information required in paragraph 20 of AASB 134 (see above). | |
| Materiality | | |
| AASB 134.23 | In deciding how to recognise, measure, classify, or disclose an item for interim financial reporting purposes, materiality shall be assessed in relation to the interim period financial data. | |
| Notes: | | |
| AASB 134.23 | 1) In making assessments of materiality, it should be recognised that interim measurements may rely on estimates to a greater extent than measurements of annual financial data. | |
| AASB 134.24 | 2) In deciding whether an item is material, its nature and amount usually need to be evaluated together. AASB 1031, Materiality, provides guidance on the role of materiality in making judgements in the preparation and presentation of financial reports. AASB 101, Presentation of Financial Statements, and AASB 108, Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors, define an item as material if its omission or misstatement could influence the economic decisions of users of the financial statements. AASB 101 requires separate disclosure of material items, including (for example) discontinued operations, and AASB 108 requires disclosure of changes in accounting estimates, errors and changes in accounting policies. | |
| AASB 134.25 | 3) While judgement is always required in assessing materiality, AASB 134 bases the recognition and disclosure decision on data for the interim period by itself for reasons of understandability of the interim figures. Thus, for example, unusual items, changes in accounting policies or estimates, and errors are recognised and disclosed on the basis of materiality in relation to interim period data to avoid misleading inferences that might result from non-disclosure. The overriding goal is to ensure that an interim financial report includes all information that is relevant to understanding an entity's financial position and performance during the interim period. | |

| AASB 134.26 | Disclosure in annual financial statements If an estimate of an amount reported in an interim period changed significantly during the final interim period of the annual reporting period, but a separate financial report is not published for that final interim period, the nature and amount of that change in estimate shall be disclosed in a note to the annual financial report for that annual reporting period. | |
| AASB 134.27 | Note: AASB 108, Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors, requires disclosure of the nature and (if practicable) the amount of a change in estimate that either has a material effect in the current period or is expected to have a material effect in subsequent periods. Paragraph 16(d) of AASB 134 requires similar disclosure in an interim financial report. Examples include changes in estimate in the final interim period relating to inventory write-downs, restructurings, or impairment losses that were reported in an earlier interim period of the annual reporting period. The disclosure required by paragraph 26 of AASB 134 is consistent with the AASB 108. Except for the information required by paragraph Aus27.1, an entity is not required to include additional interim period financial information in its annual financial statements. | |
| AASB 134.43 | Restatement of previously reported interim periods A change in accounting policy (other than one for which the transition is specified by a new Australian Accounting Standard) shall be reflected by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a) restating the financial statements of prior interim periods of the current annual reporting period and the comparable interim periods of any prior annual reporting periods that will be restated in the annual financial statements in accordance with AASB 108 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors; or b) when it is impracticable to determine the cumulative effect at the beginning of the annual reporting period of applying a new accounting policy to all prior periods, adjusting the financial statements of prior interim periods of the current annual reporting period and comparable interim periods of prior annual reporting periods to apply the new accounting policy prospectively from the earliest date practicable. | |
| AASB 134.44 | Note: One objective of the preceding principle is to ensure that a single accounting policy is applied to a particular class of transactions throughout an entire annual reporting period. Under AASB 108, a change in accounting policy is reflected by retrospective application, with restatement of prior period financial data as far back as is practicable. However, if the cumulative amount of the adjustment relating to prior annual reporting periods is impracticable to determine, then under AASB 108 the new policy is applied prospectively from the earliest date practicable. The effect of the principle in paragraph 43 of AASB 134 (see above) is to require that within the current annual reporting period any change in accounting policy is applied either retrospectively or, if that is not practicable, prospectively, from no later than the beginning of the annual reporting period. | |
