International Accounting Standards Committee Foundation

Board Member

The International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) is a 14-member independent body that is responsible for the development and promulgation of a single set of high-quality international accounting standards. Members of the IASB are chosen on the basis of their accounting expertise, relevant experience, and ability to work in harmony toward the common objective. Nineteen Trustees of the International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC) Foundation, chaired by Paul A. Volcker, oversee the IASB.

The Trustees of the IASC Foundation will appoint a full-time member with a background in the preparation of financial accounts. The appointed member will serve a five-year term and will be expected to spend a large majority of his or her time in London, where the IASB is located. IASB members must possess a high degree of relevant technical expertise. Other important qualifications include a substantial knowledge of the associated global business environment, a high level of analytical and judicial decision-making ability, and superior administrative and communication skills.

Candidates should possess a high level of integrity, a commitment to the IASB's mission, the IASB conceptual framework, and the public interest, and a willingness to handle a demanding and diverse workload.

Please indicate interest by sending a cover letter and curriculum vitae by 15 November 2003 to the Chairman of the Nominating Committee, IASC Foundation, 30 Cannon Street, London EC4M 6XH.
