How to order

To buy the books individually visit the bookshop at www.iasb.org

Discounts are available for purchasing multiple 2010 publications

Not sure which to buy? You might just continue to buy the Red Book. Owning annual copies of this publication will ensure you have the latest text of IFRSs issued by the IASB. However, if you would like both the Red Book and the Blue Book, we have discounts available to make this option more affordable.

When the Red Book is launched in March, purchasers of the Blue Book will receive an email allowing them to buy the Red Book at a 50 per cent discount. There will also be an option to buy both books together at a discounted price.

Comprehensive Subscription Service

To get these and all other IASB publications, automatically as soon as they are published, why not take a look at the Comprehensive Subscription Service?

For £450 a year, including shipping costs, a subscription will give you a combined online, eIFRS and printed copy service including the printed 2010 Blue, Red and Green IFRS books.

consolidated in print...

IFRS® Consolidated without early application

Official pronouncements applicable on 1 January 2010. Does not include IFRSs® with an effective date after 1 January 2010

This new publication is different from our annual IFRS Bound Volume because it consolidates only those IFRSs with an effective date no later than 1 January 2010.

The new Blue Book has been created as a direct response to comments from practitioners currently reporting under IFRSs. Those seeking a single volume containing all the requirements for the current year will value the Blue Book.

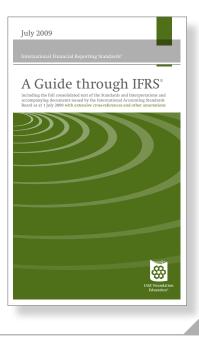

IFRS® Official pronouncements issued at 1 January 2010

includes IFRSs® with an effective date after 1 January 2010 but not the IFRSs® they will replace

The traditional annual IFRS Bound Volume will follow the practice of previous years by consolidating all IFRSs issued at 1 January 2010, including those with an effective date later than 1 January 2010, and it will exclude IFRSs that are being superseded, even though they may still be applicable.

To give an example, in November 2009 the IASB issued IFRS 9 Financial Instruments with an effective date of 1 January 2013. This new IFRS, together with its copious amendments to other IFRSs, will be consolidated in the 2010 Bound Volume (the Red Book), because it was issued before 1 January 2010. It is not included in the new Blue Book, because its effective date means that it is not required for annual reporting periods beginning on 1 January 2010.

A Guide through IFRS®

Including the full consolidated text of the Standards and Interpretations and accompanying documents issued by the IASB as at 1 July 2009 with extensive cross-references and other annotations

This edition contains the complete and up-to-date consolidated text, with extensive cross-references and other annotations, of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs), including International Accounting Standards (IASs) and IFRIC and SIC Interpretations, and IASB-issued supporting documents—illustrative examples, implementation guidance, bases for conclusions and dissenting opinions—approved at 1 July 2009.

In addition, footnotes describe issues on which the IFRIC decided not to develop an interpretation. To provide guidance on measuring and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments in markets that are no longer active the volume also contains the IASB Expert Advisory Panel report and the accompanying IASB staff summary.
