About the model reduced disclosure annual report

Purpose

The AASB has released AASB 1053 'Application of Tiers of Australian Accounting Standards' and AASB 2010-2 'Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from Reduced Disclosure Requirements' to implement its revised differential reporting regime. These Standards were made by the AASB out of session on 30 June 2010 and mandatorily apply to annual financial reporting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2013, however, early adoption is permitted for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2009. This model reduced disclosure annual report has been designed by Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu to assist eligible entities adopting the reduced disclosure requirements prior to the mandatory application date.

While the reduced disclosure regime is available for early adoption by for-profit entities that do not have public accountability and not-for-profit entities, this model report does not provide guidance on the requirements applicable to not-for-profit entities. Note that at this stage, the AASB is yet to consider reduced disclosure requirements with respect to non-reporting entities currently preparing special purpose financial statements, and as such, this model report does not illustrate the requirements that would be required for such entities. Entities should also note that the AASB has not yet considered the requirements in AASB 4 'Insurance Contracts', AASB 1023 'General Insurance Contracts', AASB 1038 'Life Insurance Contracts' and AAS 25 'Financial Reporting by Superannuation Plans' in formulating the current reduced disclosure requirements, and as a result, additional disclosures may be eliminated at a later date.

RDR Holdings (Australia) Limited is assumed to have transitioned to Australian Accounting Standards in June 2006, and accordingly, is not a first-time adopter of Australian Accounting Standards. On transition to Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements, RDR Holdings (Australia) Limited is not required to apply AASB 1 'First-time Adoption of Australian Accounting Standards'. However, entities moving from full Australian Accounting Standards (Tier 1) to Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements (Tier 2) should carefully consider the need to re-adopt Tier 1 at a later stage (e.g. companies that will become listed in the near future) as they would be required to apply AASB 1 again on transition back to Tier 1. Similarly, where an entity has previously not complied with some or all of the recognition and measurement requirements of Australian Accounting Standards (i.e. some preparers of special purpose financial reports) and adopts the reduced disclosure requirements, that entity will be required to apply AASB 1 in its first Australian-Accounting-Standards-Reduced-Disclosure-Requirements financial statements. Users should refer to AASB 1 for specific requirements regarding an entity's first Australian Accounting Standards compliant financial statements and an entity's first Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements compliant financial statements.

The model financial statements do not include separate financial statements for the parent, which have been historically required of entities preparing financial reports in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001. The Corporations Amendments (Corporate Reporting Reform) Act 2010 (effective from 1 July 2010) amended the Corporations Act 2001 so that parent entity columns are no longer required in consolidated financial statements, instead limited financial information of the parent entity is disclosed by way of note in annual financial statements (see note 56 to the financial statements for details). However, ASIC Class Order 10/654 allows entities to include the parent entity financial statements as part of the consolidated financial statements if they wish to do so. Accordingly, the model financial statements illustrated in this model reduced disclosure annual report do not include the separate financial statements of the parent and only include the limited disclosures required by Reg. 2M.3.01 of the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Where an entity presents separate financial statements that comply with Australian Accounting Standards, the requirements of AASB 127 'Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements' will apply. Separate statements of comprehensive income, financial position, changes in equity and cash flows for the parent will generally be required, together with supporting notes.

In these 2013 model financial statements, we have illustrated the impact of the adoption of a number of new and revised Standards and Interpretations (see note 2 to the financial statements for details).

For the purposes of presenting the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and cash flows, the alternatives allowed under Australian Accounting Standards for those statements have been illustrated. Preparers should select the alternatives most appropriate to their circumstances.

Note that in these model financial statements, we have frequently included line items for which a nil amount is shown, so as to illustrate items that, although not applicable to RDR Holdings (Australia) Limited, are commonly encountered in practice. This does not mean that we have illustrated all possible disclosures. Nor should it be taken to mean that, in practice, entities are required to display line items for such 'nil' amounts.

This illustration is not designed to meet specific needs of specialised industries. Rather, it is intended to meet the needs of the majority of entities in complying with the annual reporting requirements of the Corporations Act 2001. Inquiries regarding specialised industries (e.g. life insurance companies, credit unions, etc.) should be directed to an industry specialist in your nearest Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu office.

Exclusions

This model does not, and cannot be expected to cover all situations that may be encountered in practice. Therefore, knowledge of the disclosure provisions of the Corporations Act 2001, Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations are pre-requisites for the preparation of annual reports.

Specifically, this illustration does not provide guidance on the 'not-for-profit' disclosure requirements of Australian Accounting Standards, nor the disclosure requirements of the following Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations:

AASB 1	'First-time Adoption of Australian Accounting Standards'
AASB 4	'Insurance Contracts'
AASB 6	'Exploration for and Evaluation of Mineral Resources'
	Note: While this illustration does not provide guidance on the disclosure requirements of AASB 6, a number of example accounting policies applicable to mining entities are included in note 3 to the financial statements
AASB 129	'Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies'
AASB 134	'Interim Financial Reporting' (other than as noted)
AASB 141	'Agriculture'
AASB 1004	'Contributions'
AASB 1023	'General Insurance Contracts'
AASB 1038	'Life Insurance Contracts'
AASB 1049	'Whole of Government and General Government Sector Financial Reporting'
AASB 1050	'Administered Items'
AASB 1051	'Land Under Roads'
AASB 1052	'Disaggregated Disclosures'
AAS 25	'Financial Reporting by Superannuation Plans'
Int 2	'Members' Shares In Co-Operative Entities and Similar Instruments'
Int 7	'Applying the Restatement Approach under AASB 129 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies '
Int 18	'Transfers of Assets from Customers'
Int 129	'Service Concession Arrangements: Disclosures'
Int 1019	'The Superannuation Contributions Surcharge'
Int 1038	'Contributions by Owners Made to Wholly-Owned Public sector Entities'
Int 1047	'Professional Indemnity Claims Liabilities in Medical Defence Organisations'

Further, unless otherwise specified, this illustration only includes references to Standards not yet effective (and not early adopted) in the context of illustrating the disclosures specified by AASB 108 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors'.

We see this publication as an illustration and strongly encourage preparers of financial statements to ensure that disclosures made are relevant, practical and useful.

Grey, and all executive officers of the company and of any related body corporate against a liability incurred as such a director, secretary or executive officer to the extent permitted by the Corporations Act 2001. The contract of insurance prohibits disclosure of the nature of the liability and the amount of the premium.

The company has not otherwise, during or since the end of the financial year, except to the extent permitted by law, indemnified or agreed to indemnify an officer or auditor of the company or of any related body corporate against a liability incurred as such an officer or auditor.

Where the company has not indemnified or agreed to indemnify an officer or auditor against a liability incurred, or paid an insurance premium in respect of a contract insuring against a liability incurred by an officer or auditor, the following disclosure is encouraged:

'During or since the end of the financial year the company has not indemnified or made a relevant agreement to indemnify an officer or auditor of the company or of any related body corporate against a liability incurred as such an officer or auditor. In addition, the company has not paid, or agreed to pay, a premium in respect of a contract insuring against a liability incurred by an officer or auditor.'

98/2395

In accordance with section 307C of the Corporations Act 2001, I am pleased to provide the following declaration of independence to the directors of RDR Holdings (Australia) Limited.

As lead audit partner for the audit [or review] of the financial statements of RDR Holdings (Australia) Limited for the financial year ended 30 June 2013, I declare that to the best of my knowledge and belief, there have been no contraventions of:

- (i) the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 in relation to the audit [or review]; and
- (ii) any applicable code of professional conduct in relation to the audit [or review].

Yours sincerely

	Format of the financial statements General disclosures Minimum general requirements relating to the format of the financial statements are included in Australian Accounting Standards AASB 101 'Presentation of Financial Statements' and AASB 108 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors' and have been implicitly applied in the model financial statements. These include:
AASB101.49	(a) An entity shall clearly identify the financial statements and distinguish them from other information in the same published document;
AASB101.36	(b) An entity shall present a complete set of financial statements (including comparative information) at least annually;
AASB101.36	(c) When an entity changes the end of its reporting period and presents financial statements for a period longer or shorter than one year, an entity shall disclose, in addition to the period covered by the financial statements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. the reason for using a longer or shorter period; and</li> <li>ii. the fact that amounts presented in the financial statements are not entirely comparable;</li> </ul>
AASB101.51	(d) An entity shall clearly identify each financial statement and the notes;
AASB101.51	(e) An entity shall display the following information prominently, and repeat it when necessary for the information presented to be understandable: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. the name of the reporting entity or other means of identification, and any change in that information from the end of the preceding reporting period (for example, to give a proper understanding, the change of name may be disclosed on the cover of the annual report and repeated in the directors' report, the directors' declaration, auditor's independence declaration, independent auditor's report and on the face of the financial statements);</li> <li>ii. whether the financial statements are of the individual entity or a group of entities;</li> <li>iii. the date of the end of the reporting period or the period covered by the set of financial statements or notes;</li> <li>iv. the presentation currency, as defined in AASB 121 'The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates'; and</li> <li>v. the level of rounding used in presenting amounts in the financial statements; and</li> </ul>
AASB101.51(a)	(f) An entity shall retain the presentation and classification of items in the financial statements from one period to the next unless: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. it is apparent, following a significant change in the nature of the entity's operations or a review of its financial statements, that another presentation or classification would be more appropriate having regard to the criteria for the selection and application of accounting policies in AASB 108; or</li> <li>ii. an Australian Accounting Standard requires a change in presentation.</li> </ul>

AASB101. RDR15.1	True and fair override Financial statements shall present fairly the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of an entity applying Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements. Fair presentation requires the faithful representation of the effects of transactions, other events and conditions in accordance with the definitions and recognition criteria for assets, liabilities, income and expenses set out in the Framework. The application of Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements, with additional disclosure when necessary, is presumed to result in financial statements that achieve a fair presentation.
AASB101.19	In the extremely rare circumstances in which management concludes that compliance with a requirement in an Australian Accounting Standard would be so misleading that it would conflict with the objective of financial statements set out in the Framework, the entity shall depart from that requirement in the manner set out in AASB 101 para.20 if the relevant regulatory framework requires, or otherwise does not prohibit, such a departure.
AASB101. Aus19.1	In relation to AASB 101 para.19 above, the following shall not depart from a requirement in an Australian Accounting Standard: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) entities required to prepare financial reports under Part 2M.3 of the Corporations Act;</li> <li>(b) private and public sector not-for-profit entities; and</li> <li>(c) entities applying Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements.</li> </ul>
AASB101.23	In the extremely rare circumstances in which management concludes that compliance with a requirement in an Australian Accounting Standard would be so misleading that it would conflict with the objective of financial statements set out in the Framework, but the relevant regulatory framework prohibits departure from the requirement, the entity shall, to the maximum extent possible, reduce the perceived misleading aspects of compliance by disclosing: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the title of the Australian Accounting Standard in question, the nature of the requirement, and the reason why management has concluded that complying with that requirement is so misleading in the circumstances that it conflicts with the objective of financial statements set out in the Framework; and</li> <li>(b) for each period presented, the adjustments to each item in the financial statements that management has concluded would be necessary to achieve a fair presentation.</li> </ul>
	Consolidated entity vs. group The provisions of the Corporations Act 2001 use the term ‘consolidated entity’, rather than ‘group’, to refer to the parent entity and the subsidiaries included in the consolidated financial statements. Therefore, where consolidated financial statements are prepared under the Corporations Act 2001, the directors’ report, directors’ declaration, auditor’s independence declaration and independent auditor’s report shall adopt the term ‘consolidated entity’. However, as the Accounting Standards use the term ‘group’ to refer to the parent entity and its subsidiaries, it would be equally acceptable for the financial statements and the notes thereto to adopt the term ‘group’, as has been illustrated in the model reduced disclosure financial statements.

	The Group has applied the amendments to AASB 101 arising from AASB 2011-9 'Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Presentation of Items of Other Comprehensive Income' which is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 July 2012. The amendments to AASB 101 introduce new terminology for the statement of comprehensive income and income statement. Under the amendments to AASB 101, the statement of comprehensive income is renamed as a statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and the income statement is renamed as a statement of profit or loss.
AASB101.10A	One statement vs. two statements
	The amendments to AASB 101 retain the option to present profit or loss and other comprehensive income in either a single statement or in two separate but consecutive statements. Alt 1 above illustrates the presentation of profit or loss and other comprehensive income in one statement with expenses analysed by function. Alt 2 (see next pages) illustrates the presentation of profit or loss and other comprehensive income in two separate but consecutive statements with expenses analysed by nature. Whichever presentation approach is adopted, the distinction is retained between items recognised in profit or loss and items recognised in other comprehensive income. The objective under both approaches is to arrive at an amount for 'total comprehensive income'. Under the two-statement approach, the separate statement of profit or loss ends at 'profit for the year', and this 'profit for the year' is then the starting point for the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, which is required to be presented immediately following the statement of profit or loss. In addition, the analysis of 'profit for the year' between the amount attributable to the owners of the Company and the amount attributable to non-controlling interests is presented as part of the separate statement of profit or loss.
AASB101.82A	Other comprehensive income: items that may or may not be reclassified
	Irrespective of whether the one-statement or the two-statement approach is followed, the items of other comprehensive income should be classified by nature and grouped into those that, in accordance with other AASBs: (a) will not be reclassified subsequently to profit or loss; and                      (b) will be reclassified subsequently to profit or loss when specific conditions are met.

AASB101.10A	Presentation of revenues and expenses An entity may present a single statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, with profit or loss and other comprehensive income presented in two sections. The sections shall be presented together, with the profit or loss section presented first followed directly by the other comprehensive income section. An entity may present the profit or loss section in a separate statement of profit or loss. If so, the separate statement of profit or loss shall immediately precede the statement presenting comprehensive income, which shall begin with profit or loss.
AASB101.81A	The statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income (statement of comprehensive income) shall present, in addition to the profit or loss and other comprehensive income sections: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) profit or loss;</li> <li>(b) total other comprehensive income;</li> <li>(c) comprehensive income for the period, being the total of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.</li> </ul> If an entity presents a separate statement of profit or loss it does not present the profit or loss section in the statement presenting comprehensive income.
AASB 101.81B	An entity shall present the following items, in addition to the profit or loss and other comprehensive income sections, as allocation of profit or loss and other comprehensive income for the period: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) profit or loss for the period attributable to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(i) non-controlling interests; and</li> <li>(ii) owners of the parent.</li> </ul> </li> <li>(b) total comprehensive income for the period attributable to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(i) non-controlling interests; and</li> <li>(ii) owners of the parent.</li> </ul> </li> </ul> If an entity presents profit or loss in a separate statement it shall present (a) in that statement.
AASB 101.82	In addition to items required by other Australian Accounting Standards, the profit or loss section or the statement of profit or loss shall include line items that present the following amounts for the period: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) revenue;</li> <li>(b) finance costs;</li> <li>(c) share of the profit or loss of associates and joint ventures accounted for using the equity method;</li> <li>(d) tax expense;</li> <li>(e) [deleted by the IASB]</li> <li>(ea) a single amount for the total of discontinued operations (see AASB5).</li> <li>(f)-(i) [deleted by the IASB]</li> </ul>
AASB101.82A	The other comprehensive income section shall present line items for amounts of other comprehensive income in the period, classified by nature (including share of the other comprehensive income of associates and joint ventures accounted for using the equity method) and grouped into those that, in accordance with other Australian Accounting Standards: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) will not be reclassified subsequently to profit or loss; and</li> <li>(b) will be reclassified subsequently to profit or loss when specific conditions are met.</li> </ul>
AASB101.88	All items of income and expense recognised in a period are to be included in profit or loss unless another Accounting Standard requires otherwise. Other Accounting Standards require some gains and losses (for example, revaluation increases and decreases, particular foreign exchange differences, gains or losses on remeasuring available-for-sale financial assets, and related amounts of current tax and deferred tax) to be recognised directly as changes in equity. Examples of items of income and expense recognised directly in equity not illustrated in these model financial statements include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• gains/losses on a hedge of the net investment in a foreign operation</li> <li>• transfers to profit or loss on impairment of available-for-sale financial assets</li> <li>• transfers to profit or loss on sale of available-for-sale financial assets</li> <li>• share of increments in reserves attributable to associate</li> <li>• share of increments in reserves attributable to jointly controlled entities</li> </ul>
AASB101.99, 100	An entity shall present, in the statement(s) presenting profit or loss and other comprehensive income, or in the notes, an analysis of expenses recognised in profit or loss using a classification based on either their nature or their function within the entity, whichever provides information that is reliable and more relevant. Sub-classifications of expenses by nature or function have been illustrated in the example on the face of the statement(s) presenting profit or loss and other comprehensive income respectively as is encouraged by the Accounting Standard.

Source	RDR Holdings (Australia) Limited
AASB101.105	The choice between the function of expense method and the nature of expense method depends on historical and industry factors and the nature of the entity. Both methods provide an indication of those costs that might vary, directly or indirectly, with the level of sales or production of the entity. Because each method of presentation has merit for different types of entities, management is required to select the most relevant and reliable presentation. However, because information on the nature of expenses is useful in predicting future cash flows, additional disclosure is required when the function of expense classification is used.
AASB101.29,30 AASB101.31	Regardless of whether expenses are classified by nature or by function, each material class is separately disclosed. Unclassified expenses that are immaterial both individually and in aggregate may be combined and presented as a single line item. An item that is not sufficiently material to warrant separate presentation on the face of the financial statements may nevertheless be sufficiently material for it to be presented separately in the notes. It follows that the total of unclassified expenses is unlikely to exceed 10% of total expenses classified by nature or by function, whether disclosed either on the face or in the notes to the financial statements.
	Offsetting
AASB101.32	An entity shall not offset income and expenses, unless required or permitted by an Australian Accounting Standard.
AASB101.34	An entity undertakes, in the course of its ordinary activities, transactions that do not generate revenue but are incidental to the main revenue-generating activities. An entity presents the results of such transactions, when this presentation reflects the substance of the transaction or other event, by netting any income with related expenses arising on the same transaction. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="373 920 1437 999">(a) an entity presents gains and losses on the disposal of non-current assets, including investments and operating assets, by deducting from the proceeds on disposal the carrying amount of the asset and related selling expenses; and</li> <li data-bbox="373 1005 1437 1111">(b) an entity may net expenditure related to a provision that is recognised in accordance with AASB 137 'Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets' and reimbursed under a contractual arrangement with a third party (for example, a supplier's warranty agreement) against the related reimbursement.</li> </ul>
AASB101.35	An entity presents on a net basis gains and losses arising from a group of similar transactions, for example, foreign exchange gains and losses or gains and losses arising on financial instruments held for trading. However, an entity presents such gains and losses separately if they are material.
	Disclosure of specific revenues and expenses
AASB101.97	When items of income and expense are material, an entity shall disclose their nature and amount separately either in the statement(s) presenting profit or loss and other comprehensive income or in the notes.
	Disclosure of additional information
AASB101.85	An entity shall present additional line items, headings and subtotals in the statement(s) presenting profit or loss and other comprehensive income, when such presentation is relevant to an understanding of the entity's financial performance.
	Prohibition on extraordinary items
AASB101.87	An entity shall not present any items of income or expense as extraordinary items, in the statement (s) presenting profit or loss and other comprehensive income, or in the notes.
	Other comprehensive income for the period
AASB119.93B	Where an entity recognises actuarial gains and losses with respect to defined benefit plans in other comprehensive income, the entity must present these in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. Illustrative examples of a statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are presented on pages 17 and 20.

	i. expected to be realised in, or is intended for sale or consumption in, the entity's normal operating cycle; ii. held primarily for the purpose of being traded; iii. expected to be realised within 12 months after the reporting period; or iv. cash or a cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period;
AASB101.69	(b) liabilities, as a liability that:
	i. is expected to be settled in the entity's normal operating cycle; ii. is held primarily for the purpose of being traded; iii. is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period; or iv. the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.
AASB101.60	A liquidity basis shall only be presented where a liquidity presentation provides information that is reliable and more relevant than the current/non-current presentation. The liquidity basis of presentation is not illustrated in these model financial statements.
AASB101.68	Operating cycle A company's operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents. Once an entity defines their operating cycle it affects the classification and presentation of assets and liabilities as either current or non-current.
AASB101.68, 70	When an entity's normal operating cycle is not clearly identifiable, its duration is assumed to be 12 months.
AASB101.66, 69	However, where there is a single clearly identifiable operating cycle that extends over a period greater than 12 months, the longer period shall be used as the basis for identifying as:
	(a) current assets, those assets expected to be realised in, or intended for sale or consumption in, the entity's normal operating cycle; and
	(b) current liabilities, those liabilities expected to be settled in the entity's normal operating cycle.
AASB101.68, 70	Current assets will include inventories and trade receivables that are sold, consumed or realised as part of the normal operating cycle and current liabilities will include those liabilities that form part of the working capital used in a normal operating cycle of the entity, for example trade payables and accruals for employee benefits expense. This is the case even when they are not expected to be realised/settled within 12 months of the reporting period.
AASB101.72	Refinancing liabilities Where current and non-current liabilities are presented separately, financial liabilities shall be categorised as current when they are due to be settled within 12 months of the reporting period, even if:
	(a) the original term was for a period longer than 12 months; and
	(b) an agreement to refinance, or to reschedule payments, on a long term basis is completed after the reporting period and before the financial statements are authorised for issue.
AASB101.73	However, if an entity expects, and has the discretion, to refinance or roll over an obligation for at least 12 months after the reporting period under an existing loan facility, it classifies the obligation as non-current, even if it would otherwise be due within a shorter period. However, when refinancing or rolling over the obligation is not at the discretion of the entity (for example, there is no arrangement for refinancing), the entity does not consider the potential to refinance the obligation and classifies the obligation as current.

AASB101.74	Breach of loan covenants When an entity breaches a provision of a long-term loan arrangement on or before the end of the reporting period with the effect that the liability becomes payable on demand, it classifies the liability as current, even if the lender has agreed, after the reporting period, and before the authorisation of the financial statements for issue, not to demand payment as a consequence of the breach. An entity classifies the liability as current because, at the end of the reporting period, it does not have an unconditional right to defer its settlement for at least twelve months after that date
AASB101.75	However, an entity classifies the liability as non-current if the lender agreed by the end of the reporting period to provide a period of grace ending at least 12 months after the reporting period, within which the entity can rectify the breach and during which the lender cannot demand immediate repayment.
AASB101.32	Offsetting An entity shall not offset assets and liabilities, unless required or permitted by an Accounting Standard, for example, AASB 132 'Financial Instruments: Presentation'.
AASB112.71	Income taxes An entity shall offset current tax assets and current tax liabilities if, and only if, the entity: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) has a legally enforceable right to set-off the recognised amounts; and</li> <li>(b) intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.</li> </ul>
AASB112.74	An entity shall offset deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities if, and only if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the entity has a legally enforceable right to set-off current tax assets against current tax liabilities; and</li> <li>(b) the deferred tax assets and the deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either:                             <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. the same taxable entity; or</li> <li>ii. different taxable entities which intend either to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered.</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
AASB5.40	Presentation of a non-current asset or disposal group classified as held for sale An entity shall not reclassify or re-present amounts presented for non-current assets or for the assets and liabilities of disposal groups classified as held for sale in the statements of financial position for prior periods to reflect the classification in the statement of financial position for the latest period presented.

AASB107.14	Operating activities Cash flows from operating activities are primarily derived from the principal revenue-producing activities of the entity. Therefore, they generally result from the transactions and other events that enter into the determination of profit or loss. Examples of cash flows from operating activities are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) cash receipts from the sale of goods and the rendering of services;</li> <li>(b) cash receipts from royalties, fees, commissions and other revenue;</li> <li>(c) cash payments to suppliers for goods and services;</li> <li>(d) cash payments to and on behalf of employees;</li> <li>(e) cash receipts and cash payments of an insurance entity for premiums and claims, annuities and other policy benefits;</li> <li>(f) cash payments or refunds of income taxes unless they can be specifically identified with financing and investing activities; and</li> <li>(g) cash receipts and payments from contracts held for dealing or trading purposes.</li> </ul> Some transactions, such as the sale of an item of plant, may give rise to a gain or loss that is included in recognised profit or loss. The cash flows relating to such transactions are cash flows from investing activities. However, cash payments to manufacture or acquire assets held for rental to others and subsequently held for sale as described in paragraph 68A of AASB 116 'Property, Plant and Equipment' are cash flows from operating activities. The cash receipts from rents and subsequent sales of such assets are also cash flows from operating activities.
AASB107.18	Entities shall report cash flows from operations using the direct method or indirect method.
AASB107.19	Entities are encouraged to report cash flows from operating activities using the direct method.
AASB107.16	Investing activities The separate disclosure of cash flows arising from investing activities is important because the cash flows represent the extent to which expenditures have been made for resources intended to generate future income and cash flows. Only expenditures that result in a recognised asset in the statement of financial position are eligible for classification as investing activities. Examples of cash flows arising from investing activities are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) cash payments to acquire property, plant and equipment, intangibles and other long-term assets. These payments include those relating to capitalised development costs and self-constructed property, plant and equipment;</li> <li>(b) cash receipts from sales of property, plant and equipment, intangibles and other long-term assets;</li> <li>(c) cash payments to acquire equity or debt instruments of other entities and interests in joint ventures (other than payments for those instruments considered to be cash equivalents or those held for dealing or trading purposes);</li> <li>(d) cash receipts from sales of equity or debt instruments of other entities and interests in joint ventures (other than receipts for those instruments considered to be cash equivalents and those held for dealing or trading purposes);</li> <li>(e) cash advances and loans made to other parties (other than advances and loans made by a financial institution);</li> <li>(f) cash receipts from the repayment of advances and loans made to other parties (other than advances and loans of a financial institution);</li> <li>(g) cash payments for futures contracts, forward contracts, option contracts and swap contracts except when the contracts are held for dealing or trading purposes, or the payments are classified as financing activities; and</li> <li>(h) cash receipts from futures contracts, forward contracts, option contracts and swap contracts except when the contracts are held for dealing or trading purposes, or the receipts are classified as financing activities.</li> </ul> When a contract is accounted for as a hedge of an identifiable position, the cash flows of the contract are classified in the same manner as the cash flows of the position being hedged.

AASB107.17	Financing activities The separate disclosure of cash flows arising from financing activities is important because it is useful in predicting claims on future cash flows by providers of capital to the entity. Examples of cash flows arising from financing activities are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) cash proceeds from issuing shares or other equity instruments;</li> <li>(b) cash payments to owners to acquire or redeem the entity's shares;</li> <li>(c) cash proceeds from issuing debentures, loans, notes, bonds, mortgages and other short-term or long-term borrowings;</li> <li>(d) cash repayments of amounts borrowed; and</li> <li>(e) cash payments by a lessee for the reduction of the outstanding liability relating to a finance lease.</li> </ul>
AASB107.31	Interest and dividends Cash flows from interest and dividends received and paid shall each be disclosed separately. Each shall be classified in a consistent manner from period to period as either operating, investing or financing activities.
AASB107.32	The total amount of interest paid during a period is disclosed in the cash flow statement whether it has been recognised as an expense in profit or loss or capitalised in accordance with AASB 123 'Borrowing Costs'.
AASB107.33	Interest paid and interest and dividends received are usually classified as operating cash flows for a financial institution. However, there is no consensus on the classification of these cash flows for other entities. Interest paid and interest and dividends received may be classified as operating cash flows because they enter into the determination of net profit or loss. Alternatively, interest paid and interest and dividends received may be classified as financing cash flows and investing cash flows respectively, because they are costs of obtaining financial resources or returns on investments.
AASB107.34	Dividends paid may be classified as a financing cash flow because they are a cost of obtaining financial resources. Alternatively, dividends paid may be classified as a component of cash flows from operating activities in order to assist users to determine the ability of an entity to pay dividends out of operating cash flows.
AASB107.35	Taxes on income Cash flows arising from taxes on income shall be separately disclosed and shall be classified as cash flows from operating activities unless they can be specifically identified with financing and investing activities.
AASB107.37	Investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures When accounting for an investment in an associate or a subsidiary accounted for by use of the equity or cost method, an investor restricts its reporting in the cash flow statement to the cash flows between itself and the investee, for example, to dividends and advances.
AASB107.38	An entity which reports its interest in a jointly controlled entity (see AASB 131 'Interests in Joint Ventures') using proportionate consolidation, includes in its consolidated cash flow statement its proportionate share of the jointly controlled entity's cash flows. An entity which reports such an interest using the equity method includes in its cash flow statement the cash flows in respect of its investments in the jointly controlled entity, and distributions and other payments or receipts between it and the jointly controlled entity.
AASB107.43	Non-cash transactions Investing and financing transactions that do not require the use of cash or cash equivalents shall be excluded from a cash flow statement. Such transactions shall be disclosed elsewhere in the financial statements in a way that provides all the relevant information about these investing and financing activities.

AASB1053.3 – 4, AASB2010-2.10	AASB 1053 'Application of Tiers of Australian Accounting Standards' and AASB 2010-2 'Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from Reduced Disclosure Requirements' (these standards have been adopted in advance of their effective date of 1 July 2013)	AASB 1053 establishes a differential financial reporting framework consisting of two tiers of reporting requirements for general purpose financial statements, comprising Tier 1: Australian Accounting Standards and Tier 2: Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements (RDR). AASB 2010-2 makes amendments to each Standard and Interpretation indicating the disclosures not required to be made by 'Tier 2' entities or inserting 'RDR' paragraphs requiring simplified disclosures for 'Tier 2' entities. The adoption of these standards has resulted in significantly reduced disclosures, largely in respect of income tax, segments, impairment, related parties, share-based payments, financial instruments and cash flows.
AASB 101.82A	Amendments to AASB 101 'Presentation of Financial Statements'	The amendment (part of AASB 2011-9 'Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards - Presentation of Items of Other Comprehensive Income' introduce new terminology for the statement of comprehensive income and income statement. Under the amendments to AASB 101, the statement of comprehensive income is renamed as a statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and the income statement is renamed as a statement of profit or loss. The amendments to AASB 101 retain the option to present profit or loss and other comprehensive income in either a single statement or in two separate but consecutive statements. However, the amendments to AASB 101 require items of other comprehensive income to be grouped into two categories in the other comprehensive income section: (a) items that will not be reclassified subsequently to profit or loss and (b) items that may be reclassified subsequently to profit or loss when specific conditions are met. Income tax on items of other comprehensive income is required to be allocated on the same basis – the amendments do not change the option to present items of other comprehensive income either before tax or net of tax. The amendments have been applied retrospectively, and hence the presentation of items of other comprehensive income has been modified to reflect the changes. Other than the above mentioned presentation changes, the application of the amendments to AASB 101 does not result in any impact on profit or loss, other comprehensive income and total comprehensive income.

AASB 1054 'Australian Additional Disclosures', AASB 2011-1 'Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from Trans-Tasman Convergence Project' and AASB 2011-2 'Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from the Trans-Tasman Convergence Project – Reduced Disclosure Requirements' (AASB 2011-2 has been adopted in advance of its effective date of 1 July 2013)

AASB 1054 sets out the Australian-specific disclosures for entities that have adopted Australian Accounting Standards. This Standard contains disclosure requirements that are in addition to IFRSs in areas such as compliance with Australian Accounting Standards, the nature of financial statements (general purpose or special purpose), audit fees, imputation (franking) credits and the reconciliation of net operating cash flow to profit (loss).

AASB 2011-1 makes amendments to a range of Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations for the purpose of closer alignment to IFRSs and harmonisation between Australian and New Zealand Standards. The Standard deletes various Australian-specific guidance and disclosures from other Standards (Australian-specific disclosures retained are now contained in AASB 1054), and aligns the wording used to that adopted in IFRSs.

AASB 2011-2 establishes reduced disclosure requirements for entities preparing general purpose financial statements under Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements in relation to the Australian additional disclosures arising from the Trans-Tasman Convergence Project.

The application of AASB 1054, AASB 2011-1 and AASB 2011-2 in the current year has resulted in additional disclosure on whether the Group is a for-profit or a not-for-profit entity.

	Amendments to AASB 112 'Income Taxes'	The company has applied the amendments to AASB 112 as a consequence of AASB 2010-8 'Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Deferred Tax: Recovery of Underlying Assets'. Under the amendments, investment properties that are measured using the fair value model in accordance with AASB 140 'Investment Property' are presumed to be recovered entirely through sale for the purposes of measuring deferred taxes unless the presumption is rebutted. The company measures its investment properties using the fair value model. As a result of the application of the amendments to AASB 112, the directors reviewed the company's investment property portfolios and concluded that none of the company's investment properties are held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time, rather than through sale. Therefore, the directors have determined that the presumption set out in the amendments to AASB 112 is not rebutted. The application of the amendments to AASB 112 has resulted in the company not recognising any deferred taxes on changes in fair value of the investment properties as the company is not subject to any income taxes on disposal of its investment properties. Previously, the company recognised deferred taxes on changes in fair value of investment properties on the basis that the entire carrying amounts of the properties were recovered through use. The amendments to AASB 112 have been applied retrospectively, resulting in the company's deferred tax liabilities being decreased by $[x,xxx] as at 1 July 2012 with the corresponding adjustment being recognised in retained earnings. Similarly, the deferred tax liabilities have been decreased by $[x,xxx] as at 30 June 2013. In the current financial year, no deferred taxes have been recognised for changes in fair value of the company's investment properties. The change in accounting policy has resulted in the company's income tax expense for the years ended 30 June 2013 and 30 June 2012 being reduced by $[x,xxx] and $[x,xxx] respectively and hence resulted in profit for the years ended 30 June 2013 and 30 June 2012 being increased by $[x,xxx] and $[x,xxx] respectively. Note: When an investment property was acquired as part of a business combination that took place in a prior half-year, the corresponding adjustments will also include an adjustment to goodwill.

3. Significant accounting policies (cont'd)

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, a gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary and any non-controlling interests. When assets of the subsidiary are carried at revalued amounts or fair values and the related cumulative gain or loss has been recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity, the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the relevant assets (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred directly to retained earnings as specified by applicable Standards). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under AASB 139 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement' or, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or jointly controlled entity.

3.4 Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of assets transferred by the Group, liabilities incurred by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity instruments issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their fair value:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities and assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with AASB 112 'Income Taxes' and AASB 119 'Employee Benefits' respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with AASB 2 'Share-based Payment' at the acquisition date; and
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with AASB 5 'Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations' are measured in accordance with that Standard.

Goodwill is measured as the excess of the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. If, after reassessment, the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed exceeds the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held interest in the acquiree (if any), the excess is recognised immediately in profit or loss as a bargain purchase gain.

Non-controlling interests that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation may be initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on a transaction-by-transaction basis. Other types of non-controlling interests are measured at fair value or, when applicable, on the basis specified in another Standard.

Where the consideration transferred by the Group in a business combination includes assets or liabilities resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement, the contingent consideration is measured at its acquisition-date fair value. Changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration that qualify as measurement period adjustments are adjusted retrospectively, with corresponding adjustments against goodwill. Measurement period adjustments are adjustments that arise from additional information obtained during the 'measurement period' (which cannot exceed one year from the acquisition date) about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date.

	3. Significant accounting policies (cont'd) The subsequent accounting for changes in the fair value of contingent consideration that do not qualify as measurement period adjustments depends on how the contingent consideration is classified. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not remeasured at subsequent reporting dates and its subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity. Contingent consideration that is classified as an asset or liability is remeasured at subsequent reporting dates in accordance with AASB 139, or AASB 137 'Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets', as appropriate, with the corresponding gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. Where a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date (i.e. the date when the Group attains control) and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognised in profit or loss. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss where such treatment would be appropriate if that interest were disposed of. If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted during the measurement period (see above), or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised as of that date.
AASB3	3.5 Goodwill Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of the acquisition of the business (see 3.4 above) less accumulated impairment losses, if any. For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units (or groups of cash-generating units) that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination. A cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised directly in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods. On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the profit or loss on disposal. The Group's policy for goodwill arising on the acquisition of an associate is described at 3.6 below.
AASB128	3.6 Investments in associates An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence and that is neither a subsidiary nor an interest in a joint venture. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates are incorporated in these financial statements using the equity method of accounting, except when the investment is classified as held for sale, in which case it is accounted for in accordance with AASB 5 'Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations'. Under the equity method, an investment in an associate is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate. When the Group's share of losses of an associate exceeds the Group's interest in that associate (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

Any excess of the cost of acquisition over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the associate recognised at the date of acquisition is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities over the cost of acquisition, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The requirements of AASB 139 are applied to determine whether it is necessary to recognise any impairment loss with respect to the Group's investment in an associate. When necessary, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with AASB 136 'Impairment of Assets' as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs to sell) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with AASB 136 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

Upon disposal of an associate that results in the Group losing significant influence over that associate, any retained investment is measured at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition as a financial asset in accordance with AASB 139. The difference between the previous carrying amount of the associate attributable to the retained interest and its fair value is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate on the same basis as would be required if that associate had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income by that associate would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to profit or loss (as a reclassification adjustment) when it loses significant influence over that associate.

When a group entity transacts with its associate, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate that are not related to the Group.

3.7 Interests in joint ventures

A joint venture is a contractual arrangement whereby the Group and other parties undertake an economic activity that is subject to joint control (i.e. when the strategic financial and operating policy decisions relating to the activities of the joint venture require the unanimous consent of the parties sharing control).

When a group entity undertakes its activities under joint venture arrangements directly, the Group's share of jointly controlled assets and any liabilities incurred jointly with other venturers are recognised in the financial statements of the relevant entity and classified according to their nature. Liabilities and expenses incurred directly in respect of interests in jointly controlled assets are accounted for on an accrual basis. Income from the sale or use of the Group's share of the output of jointly controlled assets, and its share of joint venture expenses, are recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transactions will flow to/from the Group and their amount can be measured reliably.

The Group's interests in assets where the Group does not have joint control are accounted for in accordance with the substance of the Group's interest. Where such arrangements give rise to an undivided interest in the individual assets and liabilities of the joint venture, the Group recognises its undivided interest in each asset and liability and classifies and presents those items according to their nature.

The assets are used to obtain benefits for the venturers. Each venturer may take a share of the output from the assets and each bears an agreed share of the expenses incurred. Jointly controlled assets do not involve the establishment of a corporation, partnership or other entity, or a financial structure that is separate from the venturers themselves. Each venturer has control over its share of future economic benefits through its share of the jointly controlled asset. Joint venture arrangements that involve the establishment of a separate entity in which each venturer has an interest are referred to as jointly controlled entities. The Group reports its interests in jointly controlled entities using proportionate consolidation, except when the investment is classified as held for sale, in which case it is accounted for in accordance with AASB 5 'Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations'. The Group's share of the assets, liabilities, income and expenses of jointly controlled entities is combined with the equivalent items in the consolidated financial statements on a line-by-line basis. Any goodwill arising on the acquisition of the Group's interest in a jointly controlled entity is accounted for in accordance with the Group's accounting policy for goodwill arising in a business combination (see 3.5 above). When a group entity transacts with a jointly controlled entity of the Group, unrealised profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the jointly controlled entity are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the jointly controlled entity that are not related to the Group.
AASB5	3.8 Non-current assets held for sale Non-current assets and disposal groups are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the sale is highly probable and the non-current asset (or disposal group) is available for immediate sale in its present condition. Management must be committed to the sale, which should be expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification. When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving loss of control of a subsidiary, all of the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary are classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, regardless of whether the Group will retain a non-controlling interest in its former subsidiary after the sale. Non-current assets (and disposal groups) classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of their previous carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

Royalty arrangements that are based on production, sales and other measures are recognised by reference to the underlying arrangement. 3.9.4 Dividend and interest income
AASB118.30(c)	Dividend income from investments is recognised when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the amount of income can be measured reliably).
AASB118.30(a)	Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Variations in contract work, claims and incentive payments are included to the extent that the amount can be measured reliably and its receipt is considered probable. When the outcome of a construction contract cannot be estimated reliably, contract revenue is recognised to the extent of contract costs incurred that it is probable will be recoverable. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. AASB112.39, 44 Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, and interests in joint ventures, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

	3. Significant accounting policies (cont'd) The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.
AASB112.47, 51	Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.
AASB112.74	Deferred tax liabilities and assets are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Group intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.
AASB112.51B	For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities and deferred tax assets for investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the carrying amounts of such properties are presumed to be recovered entirely through sale, unless the presumption is rebutted. The presumption is rebutted when the investment property is depreciable and is held within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment property over time, rather than through sale. The directors reviewed the Group's investment property portfolios and concluded that none of the Group's investment properties are held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time, rather than through sale. Therefore, the directors have determined that the 'sale' presumption set out in the amendments to AASB 12 is not rebutted. As a result, the Group has not recognised any deferred taxes on changes in fair value of the investment properties as the Group is not subject to any income taxes on disposal of its investment properties.
	3.17.3 Current and deferred tax for the year
AASB112.58	Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.
	Additional information on accounting policies shall be included where the entity has other material tax balances not covered by the above analysis, such as in relation to tax deductible share-based payment arrangements or where the company and its wholly-owned Australian resident subsidiaries have formed a tax consolidated group.
AASB116.73(a), (b)	3.18 Property, plant and equipment Land and buildings held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at their revalued amounts, being the fair value at the date of revaluation, less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses. Revaluations are performed with sufficient regularity such that the carrying amounts do not differ materially from those that would be determined using fair values at the end of each reporting period. Any revaluation increase arising on the revaluation of such land and buildings is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated within equity, except to the extent that it reverses a revaluation decrease for the same asset previously recognised in profit or loss, in which case the increase is credited to profit or loss to the extent of the decrease previously expensed. A decrease in the carrying amount arising on the revaluation of such land and buildings is recognised in profit or loss to the extent that it exceeds the balance, if any, held in the properties revaluation reserve relating to a previous revaluation of that asset.

Cost includes professional fees and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use. Depreciation on revalued buildings is recognised in profit or loss. On the subsequent sale or retirement of a revalued property, the attributable revaluation surplus remaining in the properties revaluation reserve is transferred directly to retained earnings. No transfer is made from the revaluation reserve to retained earnings except when an asset is derecognised. Freehold land is not depreciated. Fixtures and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost or valuation of assets (other than freehold land and properties under construction) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. AASB116.51, 61	Depreciation rates and methods shall be reviewed at least annually and, where changed, shall be accounted for as a change in accounting estimate as illustrated in note 4.2.3. Depreciation recognised in prior financial years shall not be changed, that is, the change in depreciation rate or method shall be accounted for on a 'prospective' basis. Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as owned assets. 	3. Significant accounting policies (cont'd) 3.21 Impairment of tangible and intangible assets other than goodwill At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation decrease (see 3.18 above). When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation increase (see 3.18 above).
AASB102.36(a)	3.22 Inventories Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs of inventories are determined on a first-in-first-out basis. AASB137	3.23 Provisions Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Group will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material). When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognised as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

	The component parts of compound instruments (convertible bonds) issued by the Group are classified separately as financial liabilities and equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument. Conversion options that will be settled by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the Company's own equity instruments is an equity instrument.
	At the date of issue, the fair value of the liability component is estimated using the prevailing market interest rate for similar non-convertible instruments. This amount is recognised as a liability on an amortised cost basis using the effective interest method until extinguished upon conversion or at the instrument's maturity date.
	The conversion option classified as equity is determined by deducting the amount of the liability component from the fair value of the compound instrument as a whole. This is recognised and included in equity, net of income tax effects, and is not subsequently remeasured. In addition, the conversion option classified as equity will remain in equity until the conversion option is exercised, in which case, the balance recognised in equity will be transferred to [share premium/other equity [describe]]. Where the conversion option remains unexercised at the maturity date of the convertible note, the balance recognised in equity will be transferred to [retained profits/other equity [describe]]. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss upon conversion or expiration of the conversion option.
	Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the convertible notes are allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to the allocation of the gross proceeds. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss incorporates any interest paid on the financial liability and is included in the 'other gains and losses' line item. Fair value is determined in the manner described in note 42. 3.24.2.7 Other financial liabilities Other financial liabilities, including borrowings and trade and other payables, are initially measured at fair value, net of transaction costs. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, with interest expense recognised on an effective yield basis. The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments through the expected life of the financial liability, or (where appropriate) a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition. 3.24.2.8 Derecognition of financial liabilities The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or they expire. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.
AASB7.21	3.25 Derivative financial instruments The Group enters into a variety of derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to interest rate and foreign exchange rate risk, including foreign exchange forward contracts, interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps. Further details of derivative financial instruments are disclosed in note 42. Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date the derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument, in which event the timing of the recognition in profit or loss depends on the nature of the hedge relationship.

3.25.1 Embedded derivatives

Derivatives embedded in non-derivative host contracts are treated as separate derivatives when they meet the definition of a derivative, their risks and characteristics are not closely related to those of the host contracts and the host contracts are not measured at FVTPL.

3.25.2 Hedge accounting

The Group designates certain hedging instruments, which include derivatives, embedded derivatives and non-derivatives in respect of foreign currency risk, as either fair value hedges, cash flow hedges, or hedges of net investments in foreign operations. Hedges of foreign exchange risk on firm commitments are accounted for as cash flow hedges.

At the inception of the hedge relationship, the entity documents the relationship between the hedging instrument and the hedged item, along with its risk management objectives and its strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. Furthermore, at the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, the Group documents whether the hedging instrument is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk.

Note 42 sets out details of the fair values of the derivative instruments used for hedging purposes.

3.25.3 Fair value hedges

Changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as fair value hedges are recognised in profit or loss immediately, together with any changes in the fair value of the hedged asset or liability that are attributable to the hedged risk. The change in the fair value of the hedging instrument and the change in the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk are recognised in profit or loss in the line item relating to the hedged item.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the Group revokes the hedging relationship, when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or when it no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. The fair value adjustment to the carrying amount of the hedged item arising from the hedged risk is amortised to profit or loss from that date.

3.25.4 Cash flow hedges

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading of cash flow hedging reserve. The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in profit or loss, and is included in the 'other gains and losses' line item.

Amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity are reclassified to profit or loss in the periods when the hedged item is recognised in profit or loss, in the same line as the recognised hedged item. However, when the hedged forecast transaction that is hedged results in the recognition of a non-financial asset or a non-financial liability, the gains and losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity are transferred from equity and included in the initial measurement of the cost of the non-financial asset or non-financial liability.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the Group revokes the hedging relationship, when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or when it no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity at that time remains in equity and is recognised when the forecast transaction is ultimately recognised in profit or loss. When a forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the gain or loss accumulated in equity is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The estimated future obligations include the costs of [removing facilities, abandoning sites/wells and restoring the affected areas]. The provision for future restoration costs is the best estimate of the present value of the expenditure required to settle the restoration obligation at the reporting date, [based on current legal and other requirements and technology]. Future restoration costs are reviewed annually and any changes in the estimate are reflected in the present value of the restoration provision at each reporting date.

3. Significant accounting policies (cont'd)

The initial estimate of the restoration and rehabilitation provision relating to [exploration, development and milling/production facilities] is capitalised into the cost of the related asset and [depreciated/amortised] on the same basis as the related asset, unless the present obligation arises from the production of inventory in the period, in which case the amount is included in the cost of production for the period. Changes in the estimate of the provision for restoration and rehabilitation are treated in the same manner, except that the unwinding of the effect of discounting on the provision is recognised as a finance cost rather than being capitalised into the cost of the related asset.

(xx) Exploration and evaluation

The following example accounting policy assumes that an entity has adopted an 'area of interest' approach towards the capitalisation of exploration and evaluation, as is suggested by paragraph Aus7.2 of AASB 6 'Exploration for and Evaluation of Mineral Resources'. Where other approaches are adopted, the following wording will need to be edited as appropriate:

Exploration and evaluation expenditures in relation to each separate area of interest are recognised as an exploration and evaluation asset in the year in which they are incurred where the following conditions are satisfied:

- (i) the rights to tenure of the area of interest are current; and
- (ii) at least one of the following conditions is also met:
  - (a) the exploration and evaluation expenditures are expected to be recouped through successful development and exploration of the area of interest, or alternatively, by its sale; or
  - (b) exploration and evaluation activities in the area of interest have not, at the reporting date, reached a stage which permits a reasonable assessment of the existence or otherwise of economically recoverable reserves, and active and significant operations in, or in relation to, the area of interest are continuing.

Exploration and evaluation assets are initially measured at cost and include acquisition of rights to explore, studies, exploratory drilling, trenching and sampling and associated activities and an allocation of depreciation and amortisation of assets used in exploration and evaluation activities. General and administrative costs are only included in the measurement of exploration and evaluation costs where they are related directly to operational activities in a particular area of interest.

Exploration and evaluation assets are assessed for impairment when facts and circumstances suggest that the carrying amount of an exploration and evaluation asset may exceed its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of the exploration and evaluation asset (or the cash-generating unit(s) to which it has been allocated, being no larger than the relevant area of interest) is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but only to the extent that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in previous years.

Where a decision is made to proceed with development in respect of a particular area of interest, the relevant exploration and evaluation asset is tested for impairment and the balance is then reclassified to [development].

(xx) Development

Development expenditure is recognised at cost less accumulated [amortisation/depletion] and any impairment losses. Where commercial production in an area of interest has commenced, the associated costs [together with any forecast future capital expenditure necessary to develop proved and probable reserves] are amortised over the estimated economic life of the [mine/field] on a units-of-production basis.

Changes in factors such as estimates of proved and probable reserves that affect unit-of-production calculations are dealt with on a prospective basis.

Following negotiations, a schedule of works was agreed, which will involve expenditure by the Group until 2015. In the light of the problems identified, the directors were required to consider whether it was appropriate to recognise the revenue from these transactions of $19 million in the current year, in line with the Group's general policy of recognising revenue when goods are delivered, or whether it was more appropriate to defer recognition until the rectification work was complete. In making their judgement, the directors considered the detailed criteria for the recognition of revenue from the sale of goods set out in AASB 118 'Revenue' and, in particular, whether the Group had transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods. #### 4. Critical accounting judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty (cont'd)

4.1.3 Deferred taxation on investment properties

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets arising from investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the directors have reviewed the Group's investment property portfolios and concluded that the Group's investment properties are not held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time, rather than through sale. Therefore, in determining the Group's deferred taxation on investment properties, the directors have determined that the presumption that the carrying amounts of investment properties measured using the fair value model are recovered entirely through sale is not rebutted. As a result, the Group has not recognised any deferred taxes on changes in fair value of investment properties as the Group is not subject to any income taxes on disposal of its investment properties.

AASB101.125,

4.2 Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

4.2.1 Recoverability of internally generated intangible asset

During the year, the directors reconsidered the recoverability of the Group's internally generated intangible asset arising from its e-business development, which is included in the consolidated statement of financial position at 30 June 2013 at $0.5 million (30 June 2012: $0.5 million).

The project continues to progress in a very satisfactory manner, and customer reaction has reconfirmed the directors' previous estimates of anticipated revenues from the project. However, increased competitor activity has caused the directors to reconsider their assumptions regarding future market share and anticipated margins on these products. Detailed sensitivity analysis has been carried out and the directors are confident that the carrying amount of the asset will be recovered in full, even if returns are reduced. This situation will be closely monitored, and adjustments made in future periods if future market activity indicates that such adjustments are appropriate.

4.2.2 Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated. The value in use calculation requires the directors to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate present value.

The carrying amount of goodwill at 30 June 2013 was $20.3 million (30 June 2012: $24.1 million) after an impairment loss of $235,000 was recognised during 2013 (2012: nil). Refer to note 24.

4.2.3 Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

As described at 3.18 above, the Group reviews the estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. During the current year, the directors determined that the useful lives of certain items of equipment should be shortened, due to developments in technology.

The financial effect of this reassessment, assuming the assets are held until the end of their estimated useful lives, is to increase the consolidated depreciation expense in the current financial year and for the next 3 years, by the following amounts:

	The following illustrative deferred tax balances disclosure is considered 'best practice'. The only requirements for a breakdown by type of temporary difference, i.e. the first column, are the opening and closing balances, and the amount charged to income (being the aggregate of the second and fifth columns). The other columns could be amalgamated or excluded so long as the other disclosures required by AASB 112 are made elsewhere in the financial statements in aggregate. Best practice would have all the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities disclosed separately, albeit in the same note.

		15.1 Trade receivables
AASB7.7	The average credit period on sales of goods is 60 days. No interest is charged on trade receivables for the first 60 days from the date of the invoice. Thereafter, interest is charged at 2% per annum on the outstanding balance. The Group has recognised an allowance for doubtful debts of 100% against all receivables over 120 days because historical experience has been that receivables that are past due beyond 120 days are not recoverable. Allowances for doubtful debts are recognised against trade receivables between 60 days and 120 days based on estimated irrecoverable amounts determined by reference to past default experience of the counterparty and an analysis of the counterparty's current financial position.

	Cost of sales
	The financial report shall disclose the amount of inventories recognised as an expense during the period. The amount of inventories recognised as an expense during the period, which is often referred to as cost of sales, consists of those costs previously included in the measurement of inventory that has now been sold and unallocated production overheads and abnormal amounts of production costs of inventories. The circumstances of the entity may also warrant the inclusion of other amounts, such as distribution costs.

18. Inventories (cont'd)

The cost of inventories recognised as an expense includes $2.34 million (2012: $1.86 million) in respect of write-downs of inventory to net realisable value, and has been reduced by $0.5 million (2012: $0.4 million) in respect of the reversal of such write-downs.

Inventory

The write-down of inventory to net realisable value would be included in the cost of sales line on the face of the income statement where classification by function is used, and in the changes in inventory line where classification by nature is used.

AASB127.41(a)	The Group owns 45% equity shares of Subtwo Limited, and consequently does not control more than half of the voting power of those shares. However, based on the contractual arrangements between the Group and other investors, the Group has the power to appoint and remove the majority of the board of directors of Subtwo Limited, and hence the Group has control over the financial and operating policies of Subtwo Limited. Therefore, Subtwo Limited is controlled by the Group and is consolidated in these financial statements.

	Recognition of jointly controlled entities
AASB131.30, 38	A venturer must recognise its interest in a jointly controlled entity using proportionate consolidation or the equity method.
AASB131.34	When proportionate consolidation is used, there are two reporting formats available:
	(a) combining the share of assets, liabilities, income and expenses of the jointly controlled entity with the similar items, line by line in its financial statements; or
	(b) separate line items for the entity's share of the assets, liabilities, income and expenses of the jointly controlled entity in its financial statements.
AASB131.35	Assets or liabilities may not be set-off unless a legal right to set-off exists and the offsetting represents the expectation as to the realisation of the asset or settlement of the liability.
AASB131.46, AASB127.38	An interest in a jointly controlled entity and associates that are not classified as held for sale in accordance with AASB 5 'Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations' must be accounted for in a venturer's separate financial statements
	(a) at cost; or
	(b) in accordance with AASB 139 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement'.
AASB127.40	Investments in jointly controlled entities and associates that are accounted for in accordance with AASB 139 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement' in the consolidated financial statements must be accounted for in the same way in the investor's separate financial statements.

	22. Property, plant and equipment (cont'd) 22.2 Freehold land and buildings carried at fair value
AASB116.77 (a) – (d)	The valuation of the Group's land and buildings was performed by Messrs R &amp; P Trent, independent valuers not related to the Group, to determine the fair value of the land and buildings as at 30 June 2013 and 30 June 2012. Messrs R &amp; P Trent are members of the Institute of Valuers of Australia. The valuation was determined by reference to recent market transactions on arm's length term.
	22.3 Assets pledged as security
AASB116.74(a)	Freehold land and buildings with a carrying amount of $23 million approx (30 June 2012: $28.8 million approx) have been pledged to secure borrowings of the Group (see note 29). The freehold land and buildings have been pledged as security for bank loans under a mortgage. The Group is not allowed to pledge these assets as security for other borrowings or to sell them to another entity. In addition, the Group's obligations under finance leases (see note 35) are secured by the lessors' title to the leased assets, which have a carrying amount of $28,000 (30 June 2012: $162,000).
AASB116.35	Property, plant and equipment stated at revalued amounts When an item of property, plant and equipment is revalued, any accumulated depreciation at the date of the revaluation is treated in one of the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) restated proportionately with the change in the gross carrying amount of the asset so that the carrying amount of the asset after revaluation equals its revalued amount. This method is often used when an asset is revalued by means of applying an index to its depreciated replacement cost; or</li> <li>(b) eliminated against the gross carrying amount of the asset and the net amount restated to the revalued amount of the asset. This method is often used for buildings.</li> </ul> The amount of the adjustment arising on the restatement or elimination of accumulated depreciation forms part of the increase or decrease in carrying amount that is accounted for in accordance with AASB 116 'Property, Plant and Equipment'.
AASB136.5	Impairment of revalued property, plant and equipment Property, plant and equipment carried at revalued amounts shall also be tested for impairment. Identifying whether a revalued asset may be impaired depends on the basis used to determine fair value: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) if the asset's fair value is its market value, the only difference between the asset's fair value and its fair value less costs to sell is the direct incremental costs to dispose of the asset: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. if the disposal costs are negligible, the recoverable amount of the revalued asset is necessarily close to, or greater than, its revalued amount (i.e. fair value). In this case, after the revaluation requirements have been applied, it is unlikely that the revalued asset is impaired and recoverable amount need not be estimated;</li> <li>ii. if the disposal costs are not negligible, the fair value less costs to sell of the revalued asset is necessarily less than its fair value. Therefore, the revalued asset will be impaired if its value in use is less than its revalued amount (i.e. fair value). In this case, after the revaluation requirements have been applied, an entity applies AASB 136 'Impairment of Assets' to determine whether the asset may be impaired; and</li> </ul> </li> <li>(b) if the asset's fair value is determined on a basis other than its market value, its revalued amount (i.e. fair value) may be greater or lower than its recoverable amount. Hence, after the revaluation requirements have been applied, an entity applies AASB 136 to determine whether the asset may be impaired.</li> </ul> Disclosure of impairment of property, plant and equipment An entity shall disclose the information requirement by AASB 136 'Impairment of Assets' for each material impairment loss recognised or reversed during the period for property, plant and equipment.

AASB140.75(d), (e), Aus1.6(b)	The fair value of the Group's investment property at 30 June 2013 and 30 June 2012 has been arrived at on the basis of a valuation carried out on the respective date by Messrs R & P Trent, independent valuers not related to the Group. Messrs R & P Trent are members of the Institute of Valuers of Australia, and they have appropriate qualifications and recent experience in the valuation of properties in the relevant locations. The valuation, was arrived at by reference to market evidence of transaction prices for similar properties.
	All of the Group's investment property is held under freehold interests.
AASB140.75(d), Aus1.6(b) AASB140.75(e)	An entity shall disclose the methods and significant assumptions applied in determining the fair value of investment property. The extent to which the fair value of investment property is based on a valuation by an independent valuer who holds a recognised and relevant professional qualification and has recent experience in the location and category of the investment property being valued shall be disclosed. If there has been no such valuation, that fact shall be disclosed.
AASB140.78	Inability to determine fair value reliably In the exceptional cases where an entity is unable to reliably determine the fair value of an investment property, and accordingly measures that investment property using the cost model, the reconciliation illustrated above shall disclose amounts relating to that investment property separately from amounts relating to other investment property. 	29. Borrowings (cont'd) 29.1 Summary of borrowing arrangements (i) Bills of exchange with a variable interest rate were issued in 2005. The current weighted average effective interest rate on the bills is 6.8% per annum (30 June 2012: 6.8% per annum). (ii) Amounts repayable to related parties of the Group. Interest of 8.0% - 8.2% per annum is charged on the outstanding loan balances (30 June 2012: 8.0% - 8.2% per annum). (iii) Fixed rate loans with a finance company with remaining maturity periods not exceeding 3 years (30 June 2012: 4 years). The weighted average effective interest rate on the loans is 8.15% per annum (30 June 2012: 8.10% per annum). The Group hedges a portion of the loans for interest rate risk via an interest rate swap exchanging fixed rate interest for variable rate interest. The outstanding balance is adjusted for fair value movements in the hedged risk, being movements in the inter-bank rate in Australia. (iv) On 17 June 2013, the Group received an interest-free loan of $3 million from the government of Australia to finance staff training over a two-year period. The loan is repayable in full at the end of that two-year period. Using prevailing market interest rates for an equivalent loan of 7.2%, the fair value of the loan is estimated at $2.61 million. The difference of $390,000 between the gross proceeds and the fair value of the loan is the benefit derived from the interest-free loan and is recognised as deferred revenue (see note 33). Interest expenses will be recognised on this loan in 2014 ($188,000) and 2015 ($202,000). (v) 2,500 perpetual notes with a coupon rate of 6% per annum were issued on 27 February 2013 at $2.5 million principal value. Issue costs of $0.595 million were incurred. (vi) Secured by a mortgage over the Group's freehold land and buildings (see note 22). The weighted average effective interest rate on the bank loans is 8.30% per annum (30 June 2012: 8.32% per annum). (vii) Secured by a charge over certain of the Group's trade receivables (see note 15). (viii) Secured by the assets leased. The borrowings are a mix of variable and fixed interest rate debt with repayment periods not exceeding 5 years.
AASB7.7	29.2 Breach of loan agreement During the current year, the Group was late in paying interest for the first quarter on one of its loans with a carrying amount of $5 million. The delay arose because of a temporary lack of funds on the date interest was payable due to a technical problem on settlement. The interest payment outstanding of $107,500 was repaid in full on the following day, including the additional interest and penalty. The lender did not request accelerated repayment of the loan and the terms of the loan were not changed. Management has reviewed the Group's settlement procedures to ensure that such circumstances do not recur.
AASB7.RDR18.1	Defaults and breaches For loans payable recognised at the end of the reporting period for which there is a breach of terms or default of principal, interest, sinking fund, or redemption terms that has not been remedied by the end of the reporting period, an entity preparing general purpose financial statements under Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements shall disclose the following: (a) details of that breach or default; (b) the carrying amount of the related loans payable at the end of the reporting period; and (c) whether the breach or default was remedied, or the terms of the loans payable were renegotiated, before the financial statements were authorised for issue.

AASB7.7	4.5 million 5.5% $ denominated convertible notes were issued by the Company on 1 March 2013 at an issue price of $1.10 per note. Each note entitles the holder to convert to one ordinary share at a cost of $3 per share. Conversion may occur at any time between 1 January 2016 and 28 February 2016. If the notes have not been converted, they will be redeemed on 1 March 2016 at $1. Interest of 5.5% will be paid quarterly up until that settlement date.
AASB132.28	The net proceeds received from the issue of the convertible notes have been split between the financial liability element and an equity component, representing the residual attributable to the option to convert the financial liability into equity of the Company, as follows.

	The equity component of $834,000 has been credited to equity (option premium on convertible notes – see note 38.7).
AASB7.7	The liability component is measured at amortised cost. The interest expense for the year ($110,000) is calculated by applying an effective interest rate of 8% to the liability component for the four-month period since the loan notes were issued. Interest paid in the period since issue is $82,000. The difference between the carrying amount of the liability component at the date of issue ($4.116 million) and the amount reported in the statement of financial position at 30 June 2013 ($ 4.144 million) represents the effective interest rate less interest paid to that date.

AASB3.B64(j)	(i) The provision for employee benefits represents annual leave and vested long service leave entitlements accrued and compensation claims made by employees. On the acquisition of Subsix Limited, the Group recognised an additional contingent liability of $45,000 in respect of employees' compensation claims outstanding against that company, which was settled in August 2013. The decrease in the carrying amount of the provision for the current year results from benefits being paid in the current year.
AASB137.85(a), 85(b), Aus1.8(c)	(ii) The provision for rectification work relates to the estimated cost of work agreed to be carried out for the rectification of goods supplied to one of the Group's major customers (see note 13.5). Anticipated expenditure for 2014 is $1.94 million, and for 2015 is $1.118 million. These amounts have not been discounted for the purpose of measuring the provision for rectification work, because the effect is not material.
AASB137.85(a), 85(b), Aus1.8(c)	(iii) The provision for warranty claims represents the present value of the directors' best estimate of the future outflow of economic benefits that will be required under the Group's obligations for warranties under local sale of goods legislation. The estimate has been made on the basis of historical warranty trends and may vary as a result of new materials, altered manufacturing processes or other events affecting product quality.
AASB137.85(a), 85(b), Aus1.8(c)	(iv) The provision for onerous lease contracts represents the present value of the future lease payments that the Group is presently obligated to make under non-cancellable onerous operating lease contracts, less revenue expected to be earned on the lease, including estimated future sub-lease revenue, where applicable. The estimate may vary as a result of changes in the utilisation of the leased premises and sub-lease arrangements where applicable. The unexpired terms of the leases range from 3 to 5 years.

AASB119.122	General When an entity has more than one defined benefit plan, disclosures may be made in total, separately for each plan, or in such groupings as are considered to be the most useful. It may be useful to distinguish groupings by criteria such as the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the geographical location of the plans, for example, by distinguishing domestic plans from foreign plans; or</li> <li>(b) whether plans are subject to materially different risks, for example, by distinguishing flat salary pension plans from final salary pension plans and from post-employment medical plans.</li> </ul> When an entity provides disclosures in total for a grouping of plans, such disclosures are provided in the form of weighted averages or of relatively narrow ranges.
AASB119.52, 121	A general description of the type of plan shall be disclosed. Such a description distinguishes, for example, flat salary pension plans from final salary pension plans and from post-employment medical plans. The description of the plan shall include informal practices that give rise to constructive obligations included in the measurement of the defined benefit obligation. Informal practices give rise to a constructive obligation where the entity has no realistic alternative but to pay employee benefits.
AASB119.120A(n)	An entity shall disclose each actuarial assumption in absolute terms (for example, as an absolute percentage) and not just as a margin between different percentages or other variables.
AASB119.120A(j)	An entity shall disclose the following in relation to plan assets:
AASB119.120A(k)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the percentage or amount that each major category of plan assets constitutes of the fair value of the total plan assets; and</li> <li>(b) the amounts included in the fair value of plan assets for each category of the entity's own financial instruments and for any property occupied by, or other assets used by, the entity.</li> </ul>

	37. Issued capital Notes 37-39 and 41 below set out detailed descriptions and reconciliations for each class of share capital and each component of equity, as required by AASB 101.79, AASB 101.106 and AASB101.106A. AASB 101 permits some flexibility regarding the level of detail presented in the statement of changes in equity and these supporting notes. AASB 101 allows an analysis of other comprehensive income by item for each component of equity to be presented either in the statement of changes in equity or in the notes. For the purposes of the preparation of this model, the Group has applied the amendments to AASB 101 and has elected to present the analysis of other comprehensive income in the notes. AASB 101 also allows that some of the details regarding items of other comprehensive income (income tax and reclassification adjustments) may be disclosed in the notes rather than in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. Entities will determine the most appropriate presentation for their circumstances – electing to present much of the detail in the notes (as we have done in these model financial statements) ensures that the primary financial statements are not cluttered by unnecessary detail, but it does result in very detailed supporting notes. Whichever presentation is selected, entities will need to ensure that the following requirements are met: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• detailed reconciliations are required for each class of share capital (in the statement of financial position or the statement of changes in equity or in the notes);</li> <li>• detailed reconciliations are required for each component of equity – separately disclosing the impact on each such component of (i) profit or loss, (ii) each component of other comprehensive income, and (iii) transactions with owners in their capacity as owners (in the statement of changes in equity or in the notes);</li> <li>• the amount of income tax relating to each item of other comprehensive income should be disclosed (in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income or in the notes) and</li> <li>• reclassification adjustments should be presented separately from the related item of other comprehensive income (in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income or in the notes).</li> </ul> An entity that elects to present a statement of changes in equity showing reconciliations between the carrying amount of each class of contributed equity at the beginning and the end of the period on the face of the statement need not repeat these disclosures in the notes to the financial statements. However, such entities shall disclose, either on the face of the statement of financial position or in the notes to the financial statements, for each class of share capital: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the number of shares authorised;</li> <li>(b) the number of shares issued and fully paid, and issued but not fully paid;</li> <li>(c) par value per share, or that the shares have no par value;</li> </ol>

	Convertible non-participating preference shares are entitled to receive a discretionary 10% preference dividend before any dividends are declared to the ordinary shareholders. The convertible non-participating preference shares can be converted into ordinary shares on a one-for-one basis at the option of the holder from 1 May 2016 to 30 April 2019. Any unconverted preference shares remaining after the end of the conversion period will remain as outstanding non-participating preference shares. Convertible non-participating preference shares have no right to share in any surplus assets or profits and no voting rights.

	38. Reserves (net of income tax) (cont'd)
AASB101.79(b) AASB101.82A	The properties revaluation reserve arises on the revaluation of land and buildings. When revalued land or buildings are sold, the portion of the properties revaluation reserve that relates to that asset is transferred directly to retained earnings. Items of other comprehensive income included in the properties revaluation reserve will not be reclassified subsequently to profit or loss.
AASB116.41	The asset revaluation reserve included in equity in respect of an item of property, plant and equipment may be transferred directly to retained earnings when the asset is derecognised. This may involve transferring the whole of the surplus when the asset is retired or disposed of. However, some of the surplus may be transferred as the asset is used by an entity through a transfer directly to retained earnings. In such a case, the amount of the surplus transferred would be the difference between depreciation based on the revalued carrying amount of the asset and depreciation based on the asset's original cost.
AASB116.77(f)	The financial report shall disclose any restrictions on the distribution of the balance of the asset revaluation reserve to shareholders.

Exchange rate exposures are managed within approved policy parameters utilising forward foreign exchange contracts. AASB7.22 It is the policy of the Group to enter into forward foreign exchange contracts to cover specific foreign currency payments and receipts within 70% to 80% of the exposure generated. The Group also enters into forward foreign exchange contracts to manage the risk associated with anticipated sales and purchase transactions out to 6 months within 40% to 50% of the exposure generated. Basis adjustments are made to the carrying amounts of non-financial hedged items when the anticipated sale or purchase transaction takes place. In the current year, the Group has designated certain forward contracts as a hedge of its net investment in Subfour Limited, which has B Currency as its functional currency. The Group's policy has been reviewed and, due to the increased volatility in B Currency, it was decided to hedge up to 50% of the net assets of the Subfour Limited for forward foreign currency risk arising on translation of the foreign operation. The Group utilises a rollover hedging strategy, using contracts with terms of up to 6 months. Upon the maturity of a forward contract, the Group enters into a new contract designated as a separate hedging relationship.		30/06/13	30/06/12		$'000	$'000	Financial assets				23,621	19,778	AASB7.8(a), Aus2.9(b)	539	1,247	AASB7.8(b)	528	397	AASB7.8(c)	5,905	4,015	AASB7.8(d)	24,400	20,285		8,919	7,857	Financial liabilities			AASB7.8(e), Aus2.9(c)	14,926	-		92	-	AASB7.8(f)	75	-		59,040	78,298		24	18

	42. Financial instruments (cont'd) The fair value of forward foreign currency (FC) contracts outstanding at the end of the reporting period is $157,000 (2012: $220,000). The Group has entered into contracts to supply electronic equipment to customers in B Land. The Group has entered into forward foreign exchange contracts (for terms not exceeding 3 months) to hedge the exchange rate risk arising from these anticipated future transactions, which are designated as cash flow hedges.
AASB7.23(a)	At 30 June 2013, the aggregate amount of losses under forward foreign exchange contracts recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the cash flow hedging reserve relating to the exposure on these anticipated future transactions is $70,000 (2012: gains of $26,000). It is anticipated that the sales will take place during the first 3 months of the next financial year, at which time the amount deferred in equity will be reclassified to profit or loss. The Group has entered into contracts to purchase raw materials from suppliers in B Land and C Land. The Group has entered into forward foreign exchange contracts (for terms not exceeding 6 months) to hedge the exchange rate risk arising from these anticipated future purchases, which are designated into cash flow hedges.
AASB7.23(a)	At 30 June 2013, the aggregate amount of gains under forward foreign exchange contracts recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the cash flow hedging reserve relating to these anticipated future purchase transactions is $239,000 (2012: unrealised gains of $194,000). It is anticipated that the purchases will take place during the first 6 months of the next financial year at which time the amount deferred in equity will be included in the carrying amount of the raw materials. It is anticipated that the raw materials will be converted into inventory and sold within 12 months after purchase, at which time the amount deferred in equity will be reclassified to profit or loss.
AASB7.23(b)	At the start of the third quarter, the Group reduced its forecasts on sales of electronic equipment to B Land due to increased local competition and higher shipping costs. The Group had previously hedged $1.079 million of future sales of which $97,000 are no longer expected to occur, and $982,000 remain highly probable. Accordingly, the Group has reclassified $3,000 of gains on foreign currency forward contracts relating to forecast transactions that are no longer expected to occur from the cash flow hedging reserve to profit or loss.
AASB7.24(c)	At 30 June 2013, no ineffectiveness has been recognised in profit or loss arising from hedging the net investment in Subfour Limited.
	42.3 Interest rate swap contracts The Group is exposed to interest rate risk because entities in the Group borrow funds at both fixed and floating interest rates. The risk is managed by the Group by maintaining an appropriate mix between fixed and floating rate borrowings, and by the use of interest rate swap contracts and forward interest rate contracts. Hedging activities are evaluated regularly to align with interest rate views and defined risk appetite, ensuring the most cost-effective hedging strategies are applied.
AASB7.22	Under interest rate swap contracts, the Group agrees to exchange the difference between fixed and floating rate interest amounts calculated on agreed notional principal amounts. Such contracts enable the Group to mitigate the risk of changing interest rates on the fair value of issued fixed rate debt and the cash flow exposures on the issued variable rate debt. The fair value of interest rate swaps at the end of the reporting period is determined by discounting the future cash flows using the curves at the end of the reporting period and the credit risk inherent in the contract, and is disclosed below. The average interest rate is based on the outstanding balances at the end of the reporting period.

	42. Financial instruments (cont'd) The fair value of interest rate swap contracts designated as cash flow hedges outstanding at the end of the reporting period is $284,000 (2012: $177,000).
AASB7.22, 23(a)	All interest rate swap contracts exchanging floating rate interest amounts for fixed rate interest amounts are designated as cash flow hedges in order to reduce the Group's cash flow exposure resulting from variable interest rates on borrowings. The interest rate swaps and the interest payments on the loan occur simultaneously and the amount accumulated in equity is reclassified to profit or loss over the period that the floating rate interest payments on debt affect profit or loss.
AASB7.22	The fair value of interest rate swap contracts designated as fair value hedges outstanding at the end of the reporting period is $51,000 (2012: Nil).
AASB7.24(a)	Interest rate swap contracts exchanging fixed rate interest for floating rate interest are designated and effective as fair value hedges in respect of interest rates. During the year, the hedge was 100% effective in hedging the fair value exposure to interest rate movements and as a result the carrying amount of the loan was adjusted by $5,000 which was included in profit or loss at the same time that the fair value of the interest rate swap was included in profit or loss.

AASB7.RDR27.1	The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are determined as follows. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities with standard terms and conditions and traded on active liquid markets are determined with reference to quoted market prices (includes listed redeemable notes, bills of exchange, debentures and perpetual notes).</li> <li>• The fair values of derivative instruments are calculated using quoted prices. Where such prices are not available, a discounted cash flow analysis is performed using the applicable yield curve for the duration of the instruments for non-optional derivatives, and option pricing models for optional derivatives. Foreign currency forward contracts are measured using quoted forward exchange rates and yield curves derived from quoted interest rates matching maturities of the contracts. Interest rate swaps are measured at the present value of future cash flows estimated and discounted based on the applicable yield curves derived from quoted interest rates.</li> <li>• The fair values of other financial assets and financial liabilities (excluding derivative instruments) are determined in accordance with generally accepted pricing models based on discounted cash flow analysis.</li> </ul>

AASB128.40(a)	Group's share of associates' contingent liabilities (iii)	150	14
AASB137.86(b)	(i) An entity in the Group is a defendant in a legal action involving the alleged failure of the entity to supply goods in accordance with the terms of contract. The directors believe, based on legal advice, that the action can be successfully defended and therefore no losses (including for costs) will be incurred. The legal claim is expected to be settled in the course of the next eighteen months. (ii) A number of contingent liabilities have arisen as a result of the Group's interests in joint ventures. The amount disclosed represents the aggregate amount of such contingent liabilities for which the Group as an investor is liable. The extent to which an outflow of funds will be required is dependent on the future operations of the joint ventures being more or less favourable than currently expected. The Group is not contingently liable for the liabilities of other venturers in its joint ventures. (iii) The amount disclosed represents the Group's share of contingent liabilities of associates. The extent to which an outflow of funds will be required is dependent on the future operations of the associates being more or less favourable than currently expected.

AASB137.89	Faulty goods claim (iv)	140	-
	(iv) A company in the Group has a claim outstanding against a supplier for the supply of faulty products. Based on negotiations to date, the directors believe that it is probable that their claim will be successful and that compensation of $0.14 million will be recovered.
	Entities should carefully consider whether circumstances that may have formerly been disclosed as a contingent liability meet the definition of a financial guarantee contract and should be accounted for in accordance with AASB 139 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement'. Examples of more common arrangements that would qualify as financial guarantee contracts and which are no longer be disclosed as contingent liabilities include:
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• deeds of cross guarantees between members of the wholly-owned group;</li> <li>• letters of support provided to subsidiaries whereby the parent undertakes to pay the debts of the subsidiary if it is unable to repay the debt; or</li> <li>• guarantees provided by the parent to financiers providing borrowings to subsidiaries.</li> </ul>
AASB137.86	Unless the possibility of any outflow in settlement is remote, an entity shall disclose for each class of contingent liability at the reporting date a brief description of the nature of the contingent liability and, where practicable:
	(a) an estimate of its financial effect, measured in the same manner as a provision;
	(b) an indication of the uncertainties relating to the amount or timing of any outflow; and
	(c) the possibility of any reimbursement.
AASB137.87	In determining which contingent liabilities may be aggregated to form a class, it is necessary to consider whether the nature of the items is sufficiently similar for a single statement about them to fulfill the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) above.
AASB137.91	Where any of the information above is not disclosed because it is not practicable to do so, that fact shall be stated.

	52. Contingent liabilities and contingent assets (cont'd) Interests in associates An entity shall disclose those contingent liabilities that arise because the investor is severally liable for all or part of the liabilities of the associate. Interests in joint ventures A venturer shall disclose the aggregate amount of the following contingent liabilities, unless the probability of loss is remote, separately from the amount of other contingent liabilities (a) any contingent liabilities that the venturer has incurred in relation to its interests in joint ventures and its share in each of the contingent liabilities that have been incurred jointly with other venturers; and (b) its share of the contingent liabilities of the joint ventures themselves for which it is contingently liable. AASB131.54(c) Disclosure is also required of those contingent liabilities that arise because the venturer is contingently liable for the liabilities of the other venturers of a joint venture as part of the aggregate amount above. Such circumstances would generally qualify as a financial guarantee contract, and should be recognised in accordance with AASB 139 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement'. Contingent assets Where an inflow of economic benefits is probable, an entity shall disclose a brief description of the nature of the contingent assets at the reporting date, and, where practicable, an estimate of their financial effect. Where any of this information is not disclosed because it is not practicable to do so, that fact shall be stated. AASB137.89, 91 AASB137.90 It is important that disclosures for contingent assets avoid giving misleading indications of the likelihood of income arising. Exemptions In extremely rare cases, disclosure of some or all of the information illustrated above would be expected to seriously prejudice the position of the entity in a dispute with other parties on the subject matter of the contingent liability or contingent asset. In such cases, an entity need not disclose the information, but shall disclose the general nature of the dispute, together with the fact that, and reason why, the information has not been disclosed. AASB137.92 Provisions Where a provision and a contingent liability arise from the same set of circumstances, an entity makes the required disclosures in a way that shows the link between the provision and the contingent liability. AASB137.88 Rights to interests arising from decommissioning, restoration and environmental rehabilitation funds Where a contributor has an obligation to make potential additional contributions to a decommissioning, restoration and environmental rehabilitation fund that is not recognised as a liability, the contributor shall disclose the information required by AASB 137 in respect of contingent liabilities. Int5.12
