

We wrote the book on IFRS in Canada - literally

iGAAP 2008: IFRS for Canada

Co-authored by Deloitte Partner Peter Chant and Associate Partner John Hughes, iGAAP 2008: IFRS for Canada was written for Canadians by Canadian practitioners. Considered essential reading for accounting professionals and others who need to understand the implications of IFRS conversion, this comprehensive reference book:

- examines the background to IFRS, looking at how the standards have evolved and the implications for Canadian companies
- summarizes the differences between Canadian GAAP and IFRS
- provides a conceptual framework for preparing IFRS-compliant financial statements
- features a first-time adopters guide in every chapter
- summarizes the implications for Canadian financial statement preparers

Talk to your Deloitte IFRS advisor to get your copy of iGAAP 2008: IFRS for Canada. For more IFRS resources, visit www.deloitteifrs.ca.

IFRS e-learning for directors

Helping Boards and Audit Committees maintain financial literacy

To effectively fulfill their oversight responsibilities throughout and after the transition from Canadian GAAP to IFRS, Board and Audit Committee members must maintain their financial literacy. And with IFRS conversion activities already underway, now is the time to start the IFRS education process. That's why Deloitte has developed an IFRS e-learning program catered to the needs of Directors – focused on awareness-building rather than technical details.

Deloitte's IFRS e-learning program for Directors provides the flexibility of individual self-study, with the option of group sessions facilitated by a Deloitte IFRS professional. The interactive material:

- discusses the challenges that companies may face through the conversion
- highlights difficult issues that management and boards may encounter throughout the changeover process
- outlines differences between IFRS and Canadian GAAP for all key standards
- provides practical examples based on Deloitte's experiences implementing IFRS around the globe
- recommends questions that directors should consider asking management or internal and external auditors

Contact your Deloitte IFRS advisor to access our IFRS e-learning program for Directors on CD or online. For more IFRS resources, visit www.deloitteifrs.ca.